Cold Keeps Icy Grip On Most States

40 Deaths Linked To Weather; Crops Are Threatened

By The Associated Press

Winter's icy blasts enveloped the major part of the nation today. No immediate break in the severe cold weather was indicated.

The effects of the frigid weather and snow, which swept into the Rockies last weekend and snowballed across most of the country by the weekend, were widespread.

Deaths blamed on the wintry weather—exposure, fires and traffic accidents on ice and snow-covered highways — passed the 40 mark.

Property damage, including heavy loss by a rash of fires, mounted into the millions of dollars.

The unseasonable cold in Southern Texas, southern California and Arizona threatened damage to citrus and vegetable crops. Farmers started their smudge pots.

Wide areas felt the sting of the frigid weather which inconvenienced millions and brought misery to thousands. Stiff winds added to the discomfort. Driving conditions were hazardous in many areas. Travel was halted in some sections.

The Weather Bureau in Chicago said that only a few parts of the nation were not hit by freezing or lower temperatures. Included were areas of the Carolinas southward through southeastern Georgia and most of Florida. Also above freezing, but not much higher than 32 degrees, were areas near the Pacific Coast from Oregon southward through western California.

The below-zero zone extended from the upper Great Lakes through the northern plains into the northern Rockies. Temperatures plunged to nearly 60 below in Montana over the weekend. Scores of cities reported record low readings for mid-January as the arctic air fanned out from the northern Rockies across the midcontinent.

A howling snowstorm off Lake Erie battered sections of western New York. The wind-blown snow pounded Erie County and to a lesser degree, Niagara and Orleans counties to the north.

No Relief Due As Cold Wave Grips District

No real relief is in sight from the bitter cold wave that moved into the district over the weekend, plunging the thermometer to near-zero readings in suburbs and rural districts.

The Ohio weatherman said the mercury will dive to 0-8 above tonight, virtually the same range noted early today.

The suburbs noted an overnight low of 4 degrees early today while downtown East Liverpool had a reading of 10.

The weatherman said it will continue partly cloudy through Tuesday, with a few light snow flurries.

The high today will be 14-20, about equal with Sunday's high, he said. There will be little temperature change Tuesday, the forecaster said.

District streets and highways were made hazardous Saturday night and early Sunday after a light snow fell, turning to ice in many spots. The accumulation averaged less than an inch in the suburbs. It came on the heels of a dense fog Saturday that slowed traffic to a crawl.

Traffic conditions were near normal this morning on main thoroughfares, after road crews scattered ashes and salt on the thin accumulation of ice and snow. But most secondary streets remained ice-covered and treacherous.

The weekend snowfall made district roads hazardous Saturday night and Sunday morning and the melting snow froze on some highways Sunday night, creating new slippery conditions, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said.

Takes Oath As Governor At Columbus

Favorable Ohio Economic Climate Made Theme Of Rhodes' Inaugural

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes made Ohio economic advancement the theme of his inaugural address today.

He succeeds Michael V. DiSalle, Democratic governor for the past four years.

"The task ahead of us is not a simple one, but it can be simply stated," Rhodes told well-wishers crowded into the Statehouse rotunda.

"It is the development of an economic climate favorable to the speeding up of our economic advancement," he said in a prepared address.

"This administration means to insist upon fiscal integrity through reduction of unnecessary expenditures, the institution of rigid economies and the development of prudent spending.

"Ohio has too many unemployed. They comprise our foremost problem. These persons, for the most part able and willing to work, are unable to find work.

"This administration will utilize every available tool at hand to create the jobs we need so that our unproductive segment will melt away to only those unable to care for themselves.

Rhodes said his administration also would move to develop education, research, youth resources, welfare, mental health and recreation.

"All of these things are essential parts of the climate which we must develop in Ohio," he explained.

"Insofar as it is possible, these objectives must be accomplished along the traditional lines of private enterprise . . .

"Economic growth cannot be achieved by massive government spending. This false doctrine has failed every time it has been tried throughout history.

"The only answer to meeting those needs which do fall properly within the domain of government action is growth in production and employment within the framework of a stable tax structure.

"This, and this alone will produce the increased state revenues required to meet our growing needs."

Rhodes, son of an Ohio coal miner, took his oath of office from Chief Justice Kingsley A. Taft of the Ohio Supreme Court, who then swore in members of Rhodes' cabinet.

In a brief talk, the outgoing governor said:

"As I hand you this commission, you have my best wishes that it will be executed in the finest traditions of democracy and the interests of the people of Ohio . . . bringing to further realization our time-honored goals of happiness, prosperity, peace and equality for all."

The Jackson County native was a smashing victor over DiSalle in the November 1962 election along with all other Republican state candidates.

Taking their oaths along with Rhodes to make it an all-Republican state capitol for the next four years are:

Lt. Gov. John W. Brown, 48, of Medina, who returns to that office after a six-year absence.

Auditor Roger W. Tracy, 59, of Columbus, former state treasurer who takes over the office his late father, Joseph T. Tracy, held from 1921 to 1937.

U.N. To Demand Surrender

Last-Ditch Stand Due By Tshombe

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—The United Nations prepared today to send a special emissary to Kolwezi to demand that President Moise Tshombe surrender his stronghold or face U.N. attack.

Diplomatic informants said they believed the Katanga president was rallying his followers for a last-ditch stand to try to hold what remained of his secessionist domain.

The emissary was to warn Tshombe that if he did not peacefully surrender Kolwezi—center of Katanga's mining industry—the United Nations would fly in a Gurkha battalion to take it by force.

Tshombe also was to get notice that if his followers carried out threats to blow up the mining installations and electric power dam in the area, he might be sent to Leopoldville for trial by the central Congo government as a war criminal and saboteur.

Last reports said a U.N. ground force had advanced from Jadotville to within 50 miles of Kolwezi.

Sources at U.N. headquarters in New York reported that Indian U.N. troops have taken over Shinkolobwe, once Katanga's biggest military base, 15 miles southwest of Jadotville and about 90 miles southeast of Kolwezi.

The base, which once accommodated 2,000 to 3,000 men, was reported almost deserted. The sources said "enormous quantities of arms and ammunition" were found.

Rail service was reported restored between Elisabethville and Mokambo near the border of Northern Rhodesia, and trains began moving over it Sunday with badly needed food supplies from Rhodesia to the Katanga capital.

The United Nations occupied Mokambo Thursday after Tshombe drove ahead of advancing U.N. troops calling on his tattered forces not to resist. The United Nations went on Saturday to Sakania on the Rhodesian border.

Tshombe slipped back into Kolwezi Saturday night after a one-day visit to Northern Rhodesia. Some sources believed he had returned to try to dissuade diehard members of his Cabinet from dynamiting the city. Others felt that Tshombe was convinced a unified Congo would doom any political future he might have and was determined to make a final stand.

Driver Flees As Car Rams Electric Pole

Auto Hits Big Stone Along Freeway But Motorist's Unhurt

A driver fled on foot after his auto smashed into a utility pole on E. 3rd St. 50 feet east of Market St. Saturday night — one of seven weekend mishaps investigated by police.

Officers said ownership of the 1951 two - door sedan later was traced to John Falkner of Rogers R. D. 1, but the driver's name was unknown. The crash was timed at 7:38 p. m.

Police said the crash damaged a pole owned by the Ohio Power Co. and caused heavy damage to the right front fender of the auto. The car was towed to a garage.

Laird J. Christen, 56, of 733 Bradshaw Ave., escaped injury Saturday at 5:45 p. m. when his auto struck a boulder on the California Hollow - West End Freeway, police reported.

Christen told police he was driving south about 35 miles an hour when his auto struck the big stone, which apparently had rolled off the hillside. The crash damaged the tie rod and undercarriage of the 1959 four-door sedan, police said.

An East End man told police his auto was damaged by a hit-skip car Saturday at 8:35 p. m. when he halted along the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." to give aid to another driver whose car had stalled.

Earl Neiser, 521 Wedgewood st., told polcie there was damage to the right side of his 1961 two-door sedan. He said his halted car was hit by an auto carrying Pennsylvania tags.

The second car halted, but the driver refused to give any information on his identity or the ownership of the auto, Neiser said.

Skids were blamed for at least two weekend mishaps.

A collision in a private driveway on Pennsylvania Ave. Sunday involved a parked 1956 two-door sedan owned by Clayton Hoover, 1503 Pennsylvania Ave., and a 1959 two-door sedan oper-

$15,500 Loss Seen In Fires At Wellsville

Flames Completely Destroy Dwelling In 18th St. Heights

Fire took a heavy toll in Wellsville over the weekend, destroying one dwelling and partially consuming another, with damage estimated at a total of $15,500.

The first blaze at 10:20 a. m. Sunday routed an 18th St. Heights family of four while they were having breakfast. The second fire at 2:10 p. m. yesterday was noticed as the occupant arrived home.

Fire Chief Robert Lewis said the first blaze completely destroyed the five - room frame dwelling of the Charles Gamble family of 18th St. Heights.

Gamble, his wife, four young children and a brother were chatting around the breakfast table when the father went to investigate the smell of smoke.

He discovered a large clothes press near the bathroom in the one - story home enveloped in flames. The brother raced to a telephone to summon firemen. Meanwhile, Mrs. Gamble and the four youngsters — 3, 5, 7 and 10— escaped through a rear door.

Chief Lewis said the flames raced through the dwelling and the home was consumed quickly. The cause still is undetermined.

Twelve firemen and two trucks from the Wellsville department responded to the alarm, and firemen played water on telephone cables nearby, preventing serious damage with no interruption of service. Highlandtown firemen also were summoned for an extra tank of water, Chief Lewis said.

He estimated $6,000 damage to the home and $4,000 to the contents, all covered by insurance. The home was owned by Joseph Hotak, who lives next door.

A defective chimney was blamed for the second fire, which broke out at 2:10 p. m. at the home of Dean Hawk, 2000 Nevada St., firemen said.

The blaze started inside an interior partition and mushroomed into the attic, Chief Lewis said. Heavily damaged were the roof,

Airlift Halts As 89 Leave Fidel's Cuba

No Flights Planned By Pan America In Refugees' Return

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The aerial exodus of refugees from Fidel Castro's Cuba has halted, following an airlift of 89 Cubans and Cuban-Americans to Miami Sunday. At present there are no plans for resuming it.

Red Cross officials announced there will be no more flights carrying ransom supplies to Cuba. Pan American World Airways, which suspended its twice-daily Miami-Havana flights at the onset of the Cuban crisis last October, is not anxious to resume the unprofitable service.

The Pan Am DC6B that made Sunday's refugee flight had taken 15,000 pounds of medicines to Cuba as another installment on the $53-million ransom guaranteed Castro for release of the 1,113 Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners.

The American Red Cross said all future shipments of ransom supplies will be made by ocean freighter. The steamship Shirley Lykes presently is being loaded at Baltimore with 6,500 tons of food, drugs and medical supplies for delivery in Havana.

The Shirley Lykes will stop at Port Everglades, Fla., to load an additional 1,000 tons of supplies. She is expected to reach Cuba no earlier than Jan. 18.

A tearful, yet joyous scene unfolded at Miami International Airport when the 89 refugees arrived at 5:20 p.m. Sixty-eight of the group were Cubans possessing American citizenship. The other 21 were Cuban nationals but either the husband or wife had U.S. citizenship or their children were born in this country.

The U.S. Immigration Service refused to release names of arrivals.

The Cuban-Americans had lived in the United States previously and for one reason or another —mostly homesickness—had returned to their native Cuba.

They said they were returning to America because of problems in Cuba, including food shortages, inability to get work, and disillusionment with the revolution.

Jury Will Air 9 Accusations For Hancock

Prosecuting Atty. Floyd R. Tarr of Hancock County said today he will ask the Grand Jury to return indictments against nine defendants when the panel convenes for the January term of Circuit Court Tuesday morning in New Cumberland.

The defendants include an East Liverpool man charged with auto theft and suspects from Massillon and Weirton accused of the strong-arm theft of $3,500 in Weirton Sept. 26.

Prosecutor Tarr said he does not plan to ask the Grand Jury to conduct any specific investigations and a routine session appears in store for the January panel.

The prosecutor said he will ask indictments against these defendants:

Charles Raymond Richards, 19, of 762 Woodlawn Ave., East Liverpool, theft of an auto of C. C. Rector of 1st St., Chester, in October.

Michael Pekech, 48, of Weirton, and Paul William Bates, 53, of Massillon, felonious assault and armed robbery of $3,500 from Nick Munas Sept. 26 in Weirton.

Dwayne C. Mercer, 26, of New Cumberland, breaking and entering of the Hancock County Board of Education offices in New Cumberland High School in October.

Charlie Hall, 20, of Fairview Rd., Chester and Gary Lee Call, 18, of 425 18th St., Wellsville, larceny in theft of $198.29 from Goddard Bakers of Chester Oct. 30.

President Seeks Biggest Slash In Nation's History

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy proposed today the biggest income tax cut in history — a $13.5 billion slash to take effect in three annual steps between now and 1965.

Individual taxpayers eventually would save about $11 billion a year under the top priority program which Kennedy unveiled in his State of the Union Message to Congress. The rest of the benefits would go to corporations.

First-stage rate cuts proposed for 1963 would total $6 billion—roughly equivalent to the biggest tax reductions of the past.

Kennedy said he wants individual tax rates whacked from the present range of 20 to 91 per cent "to a more sensible range of 14 to 65 per cent." He asked Congress to lower the top corporate rate from 52 per cent to the pre-Korea level of 47 per cent.

About one-fourth of the resulting revenue losses would be recouped through tax reforms, Kennedy said.

This lifting of the wraps from the long-awaited tax package was the high spot of the 4,500-word message, broadcast live on all national television and radio networks, in which Kennedy also:

—Implied the United States and its allies are winning the cold war at a time when Sino-Soviet frictions reveal "the seeds of internal disintegration" in the Communist camp.

—Challenged the Soviet Union to make a choice between continued conflict with the West and "the path to peace." The United States is ready for either eventuality, he declared.

—Revealed the bare bones of a legislative program which, apart from taxes, ranges from the proposed creation of a domestic peace corps to enactment of the medicare plan

Congress arranged a special joint session in the House chamber to hear the President deliver the address.

Kennedy described his tax package as "a fiscally responsible program—the surest and soundest way of achieving in time a balanced budget in a balanced full employment economy."

Although precise details won't be revealed until later this month, it was apparent the tax bill has been carefully tailored in an effort to meet anticipated opposition from congressional conservatives.

Besides calling for gradual rate cuts, to lessen the adverse impact on federal finances, Kennedy advanced two companion proposals that would aim in the same direction:

1. The enactment of tax reforms recouping $3.5 billion of the revenues that would be lost through lower rates. Reforms would begin going into effect next year.

2. A plan to gradually speed quarterly tax payments by large corporations in order to boost revenues by $1.5 billion without changing corporate tax liabilities.

" Now is the time to act," he said. "We cannot afford to be timid or slow. For this is the most urgent task confronting the Congress in 1963."

The President did not specify any particular date on which he believes the initial rate cut should take effect. He merely said the first reductions should come this year.

Neither did he indicate the first-year impact on the federal budget.

Kennedy's new budget, for the 1964 fiscal year starting July 1, will go to Congress Thursday. It

Pro-Red Bid Blocked By Italian Socialists

ROME (AP) — The Italian Socialist party's Central Committee has voted down a pro-Communist move that would have overthrown Premier Amintore Fanfani's coalition government on the eve of his departure for talks with President Kennedy.

The committee voted 45-35 Sunday to continue backing Fanfani until general elections which must be held by the end of May. The party's pro-Communists demanded an immediate break with the premier.

The Socialist support for Fanfani, which followed three days of debate, was qualified by sharp criticism of his Christian Democrat party's delay in passing Socialist-backed legislation to create regional governments in parts of Italy. Right-wing Christian Democrats fear the Socialists will again support their former allies, the Communists, for a leftist capture of power in some regions.

8 School Bills Introduced In West Virginia

Would Carry Out Part Of Barron's Education Setup

CHARLESTON (AP) — Eight administration bills to carry out parts of the education program outlined by Gov. Barron last week were introduced today as the 1963 West Virginia legislature began its first full week.

They were sponsored by Senate President Howard W. Carson, D-Fayette; Senate Education Chairman C. H. McKown, D-Wayne; House Speaker Julius W. Singleton Jr., D-Monongalia, and Education Chairman Wilford S. Wilson, D-Marion.

One bill would expand county school superintendents' qualifications, effective May 1, 1968, to include completion of a planned two - year school administration graduate program.

Others would:

Permit governing boards of state and privately - operated universities and colleges to enter into student teaching agreements with county school boards.

Open up area vocational educational classes to applicants 16 years and over who have potential abilities for higher occupational levels, provided the classes are not filled with jobless persons.

Authorize county school boards to establish summer school programs at elementary and secondary levels.

Permit the granting of a teaching certificate to a person not a United States citizen to allow him to teach a foreign language.

Give county superintendents and school boards authority to suspend or dismiss supervisors, principals and teachers for cause, with no salary forfeitures in the period before a hearing.

Clarify existing law regulating the election of school board members in primaries, with their six-year terms to become effective on July 1 following the May voting instead of on the following Jan. 1.

Delegates Walter W. Carey, R-Kanawha, and J. F. Deem, R-Ritchie, introduced a bill to repeal a cigarette sales act passed by the 1961 legislature. The legislation makes it unlawful for wholesalers and retailers to sell cigarettes at less than cost as defined in the act.

Dock Tieup Goes On; Mediators Stand By

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and federal mediators stood by during the weekend, to be on hand if any change came in the positions of the ship owners or the Longshoremen's Union.

The strike by 60,000 longshoremen has idled an additional 20,000 non-striking seamen and truckers in ports from Maine to Texas.

Flames Completely Destroy Dwelling In 18th St. Heights

Fire took a heavy toll in Wellsville over the weekend, destroying one dwelling and partially consuming another, with damage estimated at a total of $15,500.

The first blaze at 10:20 a. m. Sunday routed an 18th St. Heights family of four while they were having breakfast. The second fire at 2:10 p. m. yesterday was noticed as the occupant arrived home.

Fire Chief Robert Lewis said the first blaze completely destroyed the five - room frame dwelling of the Charles Gamble family of 18th St. Heights.

Gamble, his wife, four young children and a brother were chatting around the breakfast table when the father went to investigate the smell of smoke.

He discovered a large clothes press near the bathroom in the one - story home enveloped in flames. The brother raced to a telephone to summon firemen. Meanwhile, Mrs. Gamble and the four youngsters — 3, 5, 7 and 10— escaped through a rear door.

Chief Lewis said the flames raced through the dwelling and the home was consumed quickly. The cause still is undetermined.

Twelve firemen and two trucks from the Wellsville department responded to the alarm, and firemen played water on telephone cables nearby, preventing serious damage with no interruption of service. Highlandtown firemen also were summoned for an extra tank of water, Chief Lewis said.

He estimated $6,000 damage to the home and $4,000 to the contents, all covered by insurance. The home was owned by Joseph Hotak, who lives next door.

A defective chimney was blamed for the second fire, which broke out at 2:10 p. m. at the home of Dean Hawk, 2000 Nevada St., firemen said.

The blaze started inside an interior partition and mushroomed into the attic, Chief Lewis said. Heavily damaged were the roof,

Airlift Halts As 89 Leave Fidel's Cuba

No Flights Planned By Pan America In Refugees' Return

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The aerial exodus of refugees from Fidel Castro's Cuba has halted, following an airlift of 89 Cubans and Cuban-Americans to Miami Sunday. At present there are no plans for resuming it.

Red Cross officials announced there will be no more flights carrying ransom supplies to Cuba. Pan American World Airways, which suspended its twice-daily Miami-Havana flights at the onset of the Cuban crisis last October, is not anxious to resume the unprofitable service.

The Pan Am DC6B that made Sunday's refugee flight had taken 15,000 pounds of medicines to Cuba as another installment on the $53-million ransom guaranteed Castro for release of the 1,113 Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners.

The American Red Cross said all future shipments of ransom supplies will be made by ocean freighter. The steamship Shirley Lykes presently is being loaded at Baltimore with 6,500 tons of food, drugs and medical supplies for delivery in Havana.

The Shirley Lykes will stop at Port Everglades, Fla., to load an additional 1,000 tons of supplies. She is expected to reach Cuba no earlier than Jan. 18.

A tearful, yet joyous scene unfolded at Miami International Airport when the 89 refugees arrived at 5:20 p.m. Sixty-eight of the group were Cubans possessing American citizenship. The other 21 were Cuban nationals but either the husband or wife had U.S. citizenship or their children were born in this country.

The U.S. Immigration Service refused to release names of arrivals.

The Cuban-Americans had lived in the United States previously and for one reason or another —mostly homesickness—had returned to their native Cuba.

They said they were returning to America because of problems in Cuba, including food shortages, inability to get work, and disillusionment with the revolution.

Jury Will Air 9 Accusations For Hancock

Prosecuting Atty. Floyd R. Tarr of Hancock County said today he will ask the Grand Jury to return indictments against nine defendants when the panel convenes for the January term of Circuit Court Tuesday morning in New Cumberland.

The defendants include an East Liverpool man charged with auto theft and suspects from Massillon and Weirton accused of the strong-arm theft of $3,500 in Weirton Sept. 26.

Prosecutor Tarr said he does not plan to ask the Grand Jury to conduct any specific investigations and a routine session appears in store for the January panel.

The prosecutor said he will ask indictments against these defendants:

Charles Raymond Richards, 19, of 762 Woodlawn Ave., East Liverpool, theft of an auto of C. C. Rector of 1st St., Chester, in October.

Michael Pekech, 48, of Weirton, and Paul William Bates, 53, of Massillon, felonious assault and armed robbery of $3,500 from Nick Munas Sept. 26 in Weirton.

Dwayne C. Mercer, 26, of New Cumberland, breaking and entering of the Hancock County Board of Education offices in New Cumberland High School in October.

Charlie Hall, 20, of Fairview Rd., Chester and Gary Lee Call, 18, of 425 18th St., Wellsville, larceny in theft of $198.29 from Goddard Bakers of Chester Oct. 30.

President Seeks Biggest Slash In Nation's History

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy proposed today the biggest income tax cut in history — a $13.5 billion slash to take effect in three annual steps between now and 1965.

Individual taxpayers eventually would save about $11 billion a year under the top priority program which Kennedy unveiled in his State of the Union Message to Congress. The rest of the benefits would go to corporations.

First-stage rate cuts proposed for 1963 would total $6 billion—roughly equivalent to the biggest tax reductions of the past.

Kennedy said he wants individual tax rates whacked from the present range of 20 to 91 per cent "to a more sensible range of 14 to 65 per cent." He asked Congress to lower the top corporate rate from 52 per cent to the pre-Korea level of 47 per cent.

About one-fourth of the resulting revenue losses would be recouped through tax reforms, Kennedy said.

This lifting of the wraps from the long-awaited tax package was the high spot of the 4,500-word message, broadcast live on all national television and radio networks, in which Kennedy also:

—Implied the United States and its allies are winning the cold war at a time when Sino-Soviet frictions reveal "the seeds of internal disintegration" in the Communist camp.

—Challenged the Soviet Union to make a choice between continued conflict with the West and "the path to peace." The United States is ready for either eventuality, he declared.

—Revealed the bare bones of a legislative program which, apart from taxes, ranges from the proposed creation of a domestic peace corps to enactment of the medicare plan

Congress arranged a special joint session in the House chamber to hear the President deliver the address.

Kennedy described his tax package as "a fiscally responsible program—the surest and soundest way of achieving in time a balanced budget in a balanced full employment economy."

Although precise details won't be revealed until later this month, it was apparent the tax bill has been carefully tailored in an effort to meet anticipated opposition from congressional conservatives.

Besides calling for gradual rate cuts, to lessen the adverse impact on federal finances, Kennedy advanced two companion proposals that would aim in the same direction:

1. The enactment of tax reforms recouping $3.5 billion of the revenues that would be lost through lower rates. Reforms would begin going into effect next year.

2. A plan to gradually speed quarterly tax payments by large corporations in order to boost revenues by $1.5 billion without changing corporate tax liabilities.

" Now is the time to act," he said. "We cannot afford to be timid or slow. For this is the most urgent task confronting the Congress in 1963."

The President did not specify any particular date on which he believes the initial rate cut should take effect. He merely said the first reductions should come this year.

Neither did he indicate the first-year impact on the federal budget.

Kennedy's new budget, for the 1964 fiscal year starting July 1, will go to Congress Thursday. It

Pro-Red Bid Blocked By Italian Socialists

ROME (AP) — The Italian Socialist party's Central Committee has voted down a pro-Communist move that would have overthrown Premier Amintore Fanfani's coalition government on the eve of his departure for talks with President Kennedy.

The committee voted 45-35 Sunday to continue backing Fanfani until general elections which must be held by the end of May. The party's pro-Communists demanded an immediate break with the premier.

The Socialist support for Fanfani, which followed three days of debate, was qualified by sharp criticism of his Christian Democrat party's delay in passing Socialist-backed legislation to create regional governments in parts of Italy. Right-wing Christian Democrats fear the Socialists will again support their former allies, the Communists, for a leftist capture of power in some regions.

8 School Bills Introduced In West Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP) — Eight administration bills to carry out parts of the education program outlined by Gov. Barron last week were introduced today as the 1963 West Virginia legislature began its first full week.

They were sponsored by Senate President Howard W. Carson, D-Fayette; Senate Education Chairman C. H. McKown, D-Wayne; House Speaker Julius W. Singleton Jr., D-Monongalia, and Education Chairman Wilford S. Wilson, D-Marion.

One bill would expand county school superintendents' qualifications, effective May 1, 1968, to include completion of a planned two - year school administration graduate program.

Others would:

Permit governing boards of state and privately - operated universities and colleges to enter into student teaching agreements with county school boards.

Open up area vocational educational classes to applicants 16 years and over who have potential abilities for higher occupational levels, provided the classes are not filled with jobless persons.

Authorize county school boards to establish summer school programs at elementary and secondary levels.

Permit the granting of a teaching certificate to a person not a United States citizen to allow him to teach a foreign language.

Give county superintendents and school boards authority to suspend or dismiss supervisors, principals and teachers for cause, with no salary forfeitures in the period before a hearing.

Clarify existing law regulating the election of school board members in primaries, with their six-year terms to become effective on July 1 following the May voting instead of on the following Jan. 1.

Delegates Walter W. Carey, R-Kanawha, and J. F. Deem, R-Ritchie, introduced a bill to repeal a cigarette sales act passed by the 1961 legislature. The legislation makes it unlawful for wholesalers and retailers to sell cigarettes at less than cost as defined in the act.

Dock Tieup Goes On; Mediators Stand By

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and federal mediators stood by during the weekend, to be on hand if any change came in the positions of the ship owners or the Longshoremen's Union.

The strike by 60,000 longshoremen has idled an additional 20,000 non-striking seamen and truckers in ports from Maine to Texas.

2 Bound Over On 2 Charges By City Judge

Two men arrested last week in the Maplewood area by an off-duty patrolman acting on a hunch were bound over to the Grand Jury after entering pleas today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Two petty larceny charges filed against Mikeals by Patrolman Paul Carter were dismissed by Judge Chertoff at the request of Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark with the officer's approval.

Wasson pleaded not guilty and also waived a preliminary hearing. His bond was continued at $5,000.

Neither was represented by counsel this morning although their cases had been continued from Thursday to permit them to retain attorneys.

Atty. W. S. Foulks told Judge Chertoff he had talked briefly with Wasson and recommended he enter the innocent plea and waive a hearing.

Mikeals told the court his attorney was in Columbus and Judge Chertoff had continued the case until Wednesday morning. However, the defendant later changed his mind and went before the bench to enter the guilty plea.

Mikeals was apprehended by Patrolman Carter in a 1956 sedan which John Smuz of the Elks Club had reported stolen Tuesday night or early Wednesday.

Officer Carter halted Mikeals on Maplewood Ave. after spotting the car which he thought might be the Smuz auto.

While talking with Mikeals, Officer Carter checked out Wasson, who was passing by, and said he found a .32-caliber pistol on him

The charges dismissed this morning against Mikeals included the theft of a tire, wheel and jack from the Smuz auto and theft of a license plate from the car of Harold Green of Salineville.

Mikeals was taken from jail to City Hospital for treatment Sunday at 9 p. m. after complaining of pains in his chest and arm, police said. Officers removed Mikeals to the hospital by cruiser after he complained to the deskman of the pain, police said. His ailment was diagnosed as a cold, police said.

Palestine Driver Given Jail Term

An East Palestine father of eight was fined and jailed this morning in Municipal Court after pleading guilty to a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

James William Sorrell, 26, of 1620 W. Main St. was fined $200 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driver's license revoked for 90 days when he appeared before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Sorrell was taken into custody at 4:06 a. m. Sunday on Washington St. by Patrolman R. J. Brookes.

Patrolman Brookes told the court he noticed a car heading north on Washington St., which is limited to southbound traffic, and halted the car believing the driver may have been lost. He booked Sorrell when he observed his condition, he said.

Sorrell told the court he didn't know how he got on a one-way street. "You were drunk, that's how," Judge Chertoff declared.

President

is expected to call for spending approaching $99 billion.

In one of his few references to the budget, the President said it will allow for "needed rises in defense, space and fixed interest charges." But he said it will hold "total expenditures for all other purposes below this year's level."

To do this, Kennedy said, he will call for "the reduction or postponement of many desirable programs," plus payroll and other economies.

These were among other highlights of the message:

—The state of the world is improving; "steady progress has been made in building a world of order."

—"But we cannot be satisfied to rest here. This is the side of the hill, not the top. The mere absence of war is not peace. The mere absence of recession is not growth. We have made a beginning—but we have only begun."

—At home, Kennedy wants aid to education; help for unemployed youths; an expanded health program; strengthened guarantees of voting rights; increased competition and decreased regulation in transportation; a local mass transit program; a new farm program; more parks and recreation

—Abroad, Kennedy seeks a lowering of trade curbs; an expanded Peace Corps; "an increasingly intimate North Atlantic Treaty Organization" with its own nuclear force and stronger conventional arms; a vigorous Alliance for Progress in Latin America; and a continuing foreign aid program which he said has "contributed to the fact that not a single one of the nearly 50 U.N. members to gain independence since the second World War has succumbed to Communist control."

Kennedy devoted a special section of his address to "increasing strains and tensions within the Communist bloc." Emphasizing that "here hope must be tempered with caution," he said of Sino-Soviet differences:

While professing to foresee "no spectacular reversal in Communist methods or goals," Kennedy said that if "the winds of change, persuade the Soviets to walk the path of peace, then let her know that all free nations will journey with her."

But until that happens, he said, "the free peoples have no choice but to keep their arms nearby."

Kennedy concluded by saying that "We have every reason to believe that our tide is running strong." And he added this prayerful reference to the recent Cuban crisis:

"With thanks to Almighty God for seeing us through a perilous passage, we ask His help anew in guiding the 'good ship Union.'"

St. Clair's Police List Increase In Patrol Traveling

St. Clair Township police officers patrolled 27,150 miles during 1962, an increase of 7,000 miles over 1961, when some 20,000 miles were traveled, according to the annual summary.

Traffic arrests, 11 (10); traffic warnings, 149 (102); civil papers served for East Palestine Court, 21, (27); warrants served, 6 (5); criminal investigations, 12 (20) with 5 solved; domestic complaints, 31 (22).

Juvenile complaints, 17 (27); prowler complaints, 5(23); accidents investigated, 18 (9); fire calls, 27 (15); telephone calls received, 756 (568), and radio transmissions, 1,557 (535).

The other constables include Lester McElhaney, Richard Wright and Mrs. Mary Jackson, who receives telephone calls, dispatches officers and serves as police matron when needed, Jackson said.

Rhodes

Treasurer John D. Herbert, 32, son of a former governor and Supreme Court judge, Thomas J. Herbert, taking over his first public office.

Son of a Coalton, Jackson County, miner who died when the new governor was only eight, Rhodes rose rapidly through the ranks of ward committeeman in Columbus, board of education member and city auditor to the post of mayor of his state's capital city at the age of 34. Rhodes served nine years as mayor until he resigned after his election as state auditor.

His childhood sweetheart, the former Helen Rawlins of Jackson, and their three teen-age daughters already had moved into the executive mansion in suburban Bexley in advance of the inauguration. Suzanne Rhodes, 19, is an Ohio State University junior, 17-year-old Saundra is a high-school junior and 12-year-old Sharon is in junior high school.

Rhodes failed to win nomination on his first crack at the governor's office in 1950. Four years later, he was nominated but was trimmed by Frank J. Lausche in the present U.S. senator's bid for a fifth term as governor.

Last November he came back to win by a record 555,000 margin.

A former three-term governor and two-term U.S. senator, John W. Bricker, was master of ceremonies for the solid - GOP ceremony.

Social aspects of the inaugural were limited to a luncheon at the Franklin County Veterans Memorial and a stag smoker staged by the Press Club of Ohio in the Neil House hotel. For the first time in many years, the traditional inaugural ball was not scheduled.

Plans to hold the inaugural ceremonies on the west Statehouse steps were changed Sunday night because of cold weather.

The 'Blackout Blues'

Newspaper Strike Cuts New York's Store Sales

EDITOR'S NOTE — Phil Simon owns a luncheonette, typical of thousands of such small stores in the New York area. They lean heavily on daily newspaper sales and the newspaper blackout has been a costly blow.

"Because I have almost no evening papers, most of my regular customers have lost the habit of dropping in afternoons and evenings. Cigars, cigarettes, candy, soda fountain, short order meals—all these are off.

"You can say I'm singing the blackout blues, the newspaper blackout, that is. I've had a month-long headache, and I'm not kidding. Some of the stores like this have had a 50 per cent drop in business. Luckily, I haven't been hit that bad."

Phil Simon is proprietor of a small luncheonette located in the Queens section of New York City. He usually has a quick smile and a bright quip. A frown often creases his face these days as he tries to cope with the effects of the newspaper strike. Like other dealers he has been able to get deliveries of Newark and Philadelphia papers and this helps.

Newsday, published in suburban Garden City, is delivered to the store. But Simon is able to get only the same amount he received daily before the strike started.

What's his biggest single problem?

"The loss of the New York afternoon papers. I sold 700 copies of the Journal-American, Post, Press and World Telegram & Sun nightly. Now I get 50 copies of the Newark Evening News from the dealer. The store often is as quiet as a morgue from 3 p.m. on. To cut the overhead, I've had to lay off one man, reduce another man's hours and close up earlier."

Guest Talks At Church

Police Recapture Last Of Wheeling Escapees

MOUNDSVILLE (AP) — The last of five Wheeling youths who fled from the Ohio County jail last week was recaptured today at a Moundsville home.

Marshall County sheriff's deputies and city police said they surprised Michael Kyle, 19, while he was asleep on a couch at the home of Charles Robertson. They said they had the handcuffs on the fugitive before he was fully awake.

Police said they also recovered some tools and titles to two cars stolen from Moundsville persons.

2 Bound Over On 2 Charges By City Judge

Two men arrested last week in the Maplewood area by an off-duty patrolman acting on a hunch were bound over to the Grand Jury after entering pleas today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Sherman E. Mikeals, 25, of Dewey Ave. Ext. was held for the Grand Jury after pleading guilty and waiving a preliminary hearing on a charge of driving an auto without the owner's consent. Mikeals' $1,000 bond was continued.

Two petty larceny charges filed against Mikeals by Patrolman Paul Carter were dismissed by Judge Chertoff at the request of Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark with the officer's approval.

John Wasson, 34, of Lawrenceville, near Chester, was bound over on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon filed by Carter.

Wasson pleaded not guilty and also waived a preliminary hearing. His bond was continued at $5,000.

Neither was represented by counsel this morning although their cases had been continued from Thursday to permit them to retain attorneys.

Atty. W. S. Foulks told Judge Chertoff he had talked briefly with Wasson and recommended he enter the innocent plea and waive a hearing.

Mikeals told the court his attorney was in Columbus and Judge Chertoff had continued the case until Wednesday morning. However, the defendant later changed his mind and went before the bench to enter the guilty plea.

Mikeals was apprehended by Patrolman Carter in a 1956 sedan which John Smuz of the Elks Club had reported stolen Tuesday night or early Wednesday.

Officer Carter halted Mikeals on Maplewood Ave. after spotting the car which he thought might be the Smuz auto.

While talking with Mikeals, Officer Carter checked out Wasson, who was passing by, and said he found a .32-caliber pistol on him

The charges dismissed this morning against Mikeals included the theft of a tire, wheel and jack from the Smuz auto and theft of a license plate from the car of Harold Green of Salineville.

Mikeals was taken from jail to City Hospital for treatment Sunday at 9 p. m. after complaining of pains in his chest and arm, police said. Officers removed Mikeals to the hospital by cruiser after he complained to the deskman of the pain, police said. His ailment was diagnosed as a cold, police said.

Palestine Driver Given Jail Term

An East Palestine father of eight was fined and jailed this morning in Municipal Court after pleading guilty to a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

James William Sorrell, 26, of 1620 W. Main St. was fined $200 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driver's license revoked for 90 days when he appeared before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Sorrell was taken into custody at 4:06 a. m. Sunday on Washington St. by Patrolman R. J. Brookes.

Patrolman Brookes told the court he noticed a car heading north on Washington St., which is limited to southbound traffic, and halted the car believing the driver may have been lost. He booked Sorrell when he observed his condition, he said.

Sorrell told the court he didn't know how he got on a one-way street. "You were drunk, that's how," Judge Chertoff declared.

Newell Odd Fellows To Study Application

One application for membership was read and an investigating committee was named to discuss it when Clark Odd Fellows Lodge 447 of Newell met Friday night in the IOOF Hall.

William Gamble, vice grand, was in charge. A committee was named to meet this week to discuss plans for a fund - raising campaign.

Three members who visited Cove Lodge in Weirton Thursday night for a first-degree ceremony were asked to return Thursday night for a third-degree program.

Fifteen attended. Next meeting is Friday night at 7:30.

President

is expected to call for spending approaching $99 billion.

In one of his few references to the budget, the President said it will allow for "needed rises in defense, space and fixed interest charges." But he said it will hold "total expenditures for all other purposes below this year's level."

To do this, Kennedy said, he will call for "the reduction or postponement of many desirable programs," plus payroll and other economies.

These were among other highlights of the message:

—The state of the world is improving; "steady progress has been made in building a world of order."

—"But we cannot be satisfied to rest here. This is the side of the hill, not the top. The mere absence of war is not peace. The mere absence of recession is not growth. We have made a beginning—but we have only begun."

—At home, Kennedy wants aid to education; help for unemployed youths; an expanded health program; strengthened guarantees of voting rights; increased competition and decreased regulation in transportation; a local mass transit program; a new farm program; more parks and recreation

—Abroad, Kennedy seeks a lowering of trade curbs; an expanded Peace Corps; "an increasingly intimate North Atlantic Treaty Organization" with its own nuclear force and stronger conventional arms; a vigorous Alliance for Progress in Latin America; and a continuing foreign aid program which he said has "contributed to the fact that not a single one of the nearly 50 U.N. members to gain independence since the second World War has succumbed to Communist control."

Kennedy devoted a special section of his address to "increasing strains and tensions within the Communist bloc." Emphasizing that "here hope must be tempered with caution," he said of Sino-Soviet differences:

"A dispute over how best to bury the free world is no grounds for Western rejoicing."

While professing to foresee "no spectacular reversal in Communist methods or goals," Kennedy said that if "the winds of change, persuade the Soviets to walk the path of peace, then let her know that all free nations will journey with her."

But until that happens, he said, "the free peoples have no choice but to keep their arms nearby."

Kennedy concluded by saying that "We have every reason to believe that our tide is running strong." And he added this prayerful reference to the recent Cuban crisis:

"With thanks to Almighty God for seeing us through a perilous passage, we ask His help anew in guiding the 'good ship Union.'"

Trinity Chooses Elders, Deacons

Seven elders and six deacons were elected during the ecclesiastical meeting of the congregation of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church Sunday following morning worship.

The elders include George W. Fletcher, Dr. John A. Fraser, John C. Gauron, H. Emil Heidel and William G. Persohn, who will serve for three years, and J. Ralph Mackall, who will serve two years.

Elected as deacons for three-year terms were Elmer C. English, John B. Hales, Richard H. Hunsicker, Kenneth H. Johnson, William A. Poe and William O. Sutherland.

The Rev. M. Rudolph Miller served as moderator and Earl D. Lones, clerk of the session, read the official call of the meeting.

St. Clair's Police List Increase In Patrol Traveling

St. Clair Township police officers patrolled 27,150 miles during 1962, an increase of 7,000 miles over 1961, when some 20,000 miles were traveled, according to the annual summary.

Traffic arrests, 11 (10); traffic warnings, 149 (102); civil papers served for East Palestine Court, 21, (27); warrants served, 6 (5); criminal investigations, 12 (20) with 5 solved; domestic complaints, 31 (22).

Juvenile complaints, 17 (27); prowler complaints, 5(23); accidents investigated, 18 (9); fire calls, 27 (15); telephone calls received, 756 (568), and radio transmissions, 1,557 (535).

The other constables include Lester McElhaney, Richard Wright and Mrs. Mary Jackson, who receives telephone calls, dispatches officers and serves as police matron when needed, Jackson said.

Rhodes

Treasurer John D. Herbert, 32, son of a former governor and Supreme Court judge, Thomas J. Herbert, taking over his first public office.

Son of a Coalton, Jackson County, miner who died when the new governor was only eight, Rhodes rose rapidly through the ranks of ward committeeman in Columbus, board of education member and city auditor to the post of mayor of his state's capital city at the age of 34. Rhodes served nine years as mayor until he resigned after his election as state auditor.

His childhood sweetheart, the former Helen Rawlins of Jackson, and their three teen-age daughters already had moved into the executive mansion in suburban Bexley in advance of the inauguration. Suzanne Rhodes, 19, is an Ohio State University junior, 17-year-old Saundra is a high-school junior and 12-year-old Sharon is in junior high school.

Rhodes failed to win nomination on his first crack at the governor's office in 1950. Four years later, he was nominated but was trimmed by Frank J. Lausche in the present U.S. senator's bid for a fifth term as governor.

Last November he came back to win by a record 555,000 margin.

A former three-term governor and two-term U.S. senator, John W. Bricker, was master of ceremonies for the solid - GOP ceremony.

Social aspects of the inaugural were limited to a luncheon at the Franklin County Veterans Memorial and a stag smoker staged by the Press Club of Ohio in the Neil House hotel. For the first time in many years, the traditional inaugural ball was not scheduled.

Plans to hold the inaugural ceremonies on the west Statehouse steps were changed Sunday night because of cold weather.

Newspaper Strike Cuts New York's Store Sales

EDITOR'S NOTE — Phil Simon owns a luncheonette, typical of thousands of such small stores in the New York area. They lean heavily on daily newspaper sales and the newspaper blackout has been a costly blow.

"Because I have almost no evening papers, most of my regular customers have lost the habit of dropping in afternoons and evenings. Cigars, cigarettes, candy, soda fountain, short order meals—all these are off.

"You can say I'm singing the blackout blues, the newspaper blackout, that is. I've had a month-long headache, and I'm not kidding. Some of the stores like this have had a 50 per cent drop in business. Luckily, I haven't been hit that bad."

Phil Simon is proprietor of a small luncheonette located in the Queens section of New York City. He usually has a quick smile and a bright quip. A frown often creases his face these days as he tries to cope with the effects of the newspaper strike. Like other dealers he has been able to get deliveries of Newark and Philadelphia papers and this helps.

Newsday, published in suburban Garden City, is delivered to the store. But Simon is able to get only the same amount he received daily before the strike started.

What's his biggest single problem?

"The loss of the New York afternoon papers. I sold 700 copies of the Journal-American, Post, Press and World Telegram & Sun nightly. Now I get 50 copies of the Newark Evening News from the dealer. The store often is as quiet as a morgue from 3 p.m. on. To cut the overhead, I've had to lay off one man, reduce another man's hours and close up earlier."

Guest Talks At Church

Police Recapture Last Of Wheeling Escapees

MOUNDSVILLE (AP) — The last of five Wheeling youths who fled from the Ohio County jail last week was recaptured today at a Moundsville home.

Marshall County sheriff's deputies and city police said they surprised Michael Kyle, 19, while he was asleep on a couch at the home of Charles Robertson. They said they had the handcuffs on the fugitive before he was fully awake.

Police said they also recovered some tools and titles to two cars stolen from Moundsville persons.

There Goes $1.75 Billion

No one is going to find fault with a Defense Department proposal for a general pay increase covering 2.7 million persons in the active armed forces and upward of a million reservists and retired personnel.

Defense Secretary Robert McNamara has made a strong presentation of the case for bringing these people into better alignment with wage scales and benefit payments existing elsewhere. Opposition to his arguments would be absurd.

If the laborer is worthy of his hire, so is the defender. As is generally true of public employes, no one counts on getting rich on a Defense Department payroll, or even on keeping up with the Joneses.

Everything depends on policy-making officials who are supposed to make sure inequities are minimized. Stiff regulations against strikes by public employes are no guarantee that disgruntled employes won't show dissatisfaction.

MEMBERS of the armed services are totally helpless as far as bargaining is concerned. Secretary McNamara acknowledges that in the 4½ years since their last pay and allowance adjustment, "erosion" has taken place — as mild a euphemism for dollar devaluation as anyone is likely to think of for a long time.

The case for a military pay raise and a boost in living and retirement allowances is strong. But the case for adding a pay boost to the military budget now being patched together in the Defense Department is weak.

The increases would add up to $1.75 billion.

This would blot up nearly all the increased revenue from Social Security taxes the government will collect, from the rest of us, beginning this month.

It would be a net addition to the Defense Department budget, which accounts for the bulk of all federal spending; nothing would be cut out to make room for it.

It would be added to the federal deficit, representing the difference between what generous spenders think they must spend and what taxers think they dare to collect.

IT WOULD BE a vivid reflection of the disturbing public philosophy that nothing is too good for people who work for government, who are always represented as an underpaid, overworked lot, but that almost everything is too good for people who produce the wealth on which government subsists, because these people are an overpaid, shiftless lot who try to cheat on income taxes and are reluctant to pay public employes what the employes are said to be worth.

Chances are 10-1 that Secretary McNamara will get the money he wants; he is a persuasive and respected official.

But it should not be forgotten that he is asking for a net addition to the federal deficit at a time when the Kennedy administration is asking for a reduction in federal income.

'Numbers' Game

"A Chester Resident" writes: "Have you noticed the absence in your Review of arrests due to numbers writers since the new law (with so-called teeth in it) went into effect? I haven't seen one! Do you think that they aren't being written? How about an editorial on this subject?"

It would be naive to say that numbers aren't being written. The police are as aware of it as the next person. They know the numbers writers by sight. And it must be remembered that the numbers writers in turn know the police.

Apprehension of the writers in the act is difficult. And obtaining of evidence that will bring convictions in court also is difficult.

We can't promise arrests, but we do know that the police are constantly on the alert against numbers. There complete elimination is always the objective, but it's an objective hard to attain.

All that can be asked is that the police keep cracking down and that the court keeps throwing the book at the offenders when arrests are made.

What's Peculiar About Railroads?

Railroads asking government permission to merge to save themselves have nothing to gain by wondering what might have been if the government had been as careful about giving permission to their competitors to do what they did.

The railroads never are going to get back the business they lost. But they do hope to become competitive enough to keep from losing the business they still have and to increase their share of transportation revenue in the future.

One of the things that seems most deeply ironic to them is the pressure their unionized employes have been able to bring against public officials, to make these worthies testify against mergers in formal hearings.

There has been a great deal of this pressure exerted in the Pennsylvania-New York Central hearing.

Railroad officials and employes who realize that unless operating losses can be checked nobody will be on a payroll can't help but wonder where the testifiers were when public money was being spent to lay down public highways that became rights of way for truckers; where they were hiding when vast amounts of the people's money were spent on airports and in subsidies to the airlines that skimmed off all the cream and most of the milk from railroad passenger business.

Where were the protestors when over-the-highways buses edged in on the rail business?

The idea is not that these great developments should have been blocked when they were in the making. The idea is that they happened, they made their impact on transportation, the railroads, which were held under the thumb of government continuously, got squeezed and now they must listen to people testify against their request for the right to save themselves by combining their resources.

Why should anyone be trying to block this development? What's so unique and peculiar about railroads that they are expected to operate at a loss?

Civil Defense

The city's Civil Defense unit has completed another year's activity and can point to an expanded organization as it moves into 1963.

The major achievement in 1962 was the establishment of 18 fallout shelters, which now are being stocked with supplies.

It is hoped the time never comes when they must be used, but it is comforting to know they're available if needed.

The CD is more or less of an unsung organization, going about its work with little fanfare. Those who are giving of their time and their effort on its behalf deserve the thanks of the rest of us.

Just Normal

By Truman Twill

A magazine I pay attention to—U.S. News & World Report—says this is going to be a "normal" year.

I had to hang on to the chair to keep from swooning when I read this. How long has it been since anything in this country was normal?

The style has been to turn everything into a crisis, an emergency, a turning point, a crossroads, Armageddon, a jumping-off point and say goodbye to the wife and kids.

Even such commonplace things as death have been converted into extraordinary events by the tendency to turn everything into a federal case and call out the Marines and National Guard.

Wheather, which used to be something that happened and was taken in stride day by day, now is electrifying news announced in breathless tones and a diagrammed and diagnosed like a military engagement.

The didoes of the young, once regarded philosophically, now are regarded with pursed lips, behavior charts, psychiatrists and an anvil chorus of social workers beating out a dirge on the one-note theme of juvenile delinquency.

Despite the easily discernible fact that every form of deviltry, sadism and corruption has been repeated so often with such faithful attention to form that no one over 10 years of age should be surprised at one more repetition, all forms of human misbehavior are greeted with shrill cries of "What will they think of next?"

They will think of nothing new; you can bet on it.

The only novel wrinkle in what they've thought of for the last few thousand years is the nuclear bomb, and it still has not been demonstrated that death by nuclear bomb is substantially better or worse than death by stone hatchet or boiling oil.

But business is different. Is it?

Business is good, or it is bad. If it's good, it can be very good, or so-so. If it's bad, it can be Yahh, or it can be three strikes and out.

The truth is that business never has been all good or all bad, so it follows that a little of each must be normal, just as it's normal for people to have good days and bad days, good luck and bad luck, smart days and dumb days.

Or, if you want to flirt with profundity, whatever is and has been since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary is normal, including earthquakes, floods, wars, pestilences and depressions.

Yet by some zany twist of the inverted reasoning that has been foisted on the ordinary run of people by an extraordinary run of rascals with axes to grind, everything lately has been abnormal.

The rascals' motive is not difficult to determine. It's as plain as the axes they are grinding.

Without the plea of emergency, run for the hills, the dam has burst, the lights are going out all over the world and farewell forever old pals and gals the rascals couldn't con anybody into turning the grindstone to sharpen their axes.

The minute they admitted there was nothing to get excited about and no need whatever to call the children in off the streets and pull down the shades the folks out there in television and radio land would ask questions—and that would be so abnormal the jib would be up before the screamers and weepers could get out of town.

More than 100,000 different kinds of plants depend upon the bee for their pollination. Without the bee, we should have no pit fruits, berries or pod vegetables, no apples, pears, peaches, plums, cherries, apricots, raspberries, blackberries, currants, squash, melons, peas, alfalfa, clover, and so on and on.

The original meaning of the word "idiot" was simply "a private person".

Three Makes A Crowd

Search For Space Life Emphasized

By Frank Carey

WASHINGTON

A group of 100 top - ranking American scientists has urged the government to place more emphasis on searching for life beyond the earth.

They cited international prestige as one consideration and voiced concern that life - detection experiments might not be ready in time for inclusion in the first unmanned capsule landing on Mars, scheduled for 1966.

They said not enough emphasis is being put on developing techniques to sustain astronauts on prolonged flights such as those to the moon and the planets.

AMONG other things, the group called for inclusion of a microphone in the first unmanned capsule to Mars in order to record the swish of any plants waving in the Martian winds and the sounds of any creatures that might be on the prowl.

The recommendations were contained in a 16-chapter report to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration by the Space Science Board of the National Academy of Sciences.

The huge document summarizes discussions and recommendations of a group of government, universtiy and industry scientists who met at the State University of Iowa last summer to appraise the nation's space research. The study was organized by the Space Science Board at the request of the National Space Agency.

While enthusiastically endorsing NASA's space science program on the whole, the group urged that the hunt for extra - terrestrial life be elevated to "the top priority scientific goal of our space program".

It said that up to now NASA's effort in space biology — which would include the search for life on other planets — has been sporadic. NASA, it said, has been giving principal support to biology projects designed to get man into space, as distinguished from experiments aimed at finding whether life exists elsewhere in space.

SAYING THAT Mars looks like the most likely of all the planets for sustaining life, the scientists said "it is not clear that the development of already programmed experiments is proceeding as rapidly as would be appropriate . . . Therefore, it remains an open quesiton whether this program is moving at a pace which will insure the inclusion of life - detection experiments in the first vehicles we shall send toward Mars."

"Of all the discoveries that have come from or can now be anticipated from man's efforts on space science," the report said, "none more easily captures the imagination nor is more likely to focus interest and acclaim than the empiracal proof that there is in this universe a biota (life system) other than our own.

"On solid scientific grounds, on the basis of popular appeal, and in the interests of our prestige as a peace - loving nation capable of great scientific enterprise. . . . Finding and exploring extra-terrestrial life should be acclaimed as the top-priority scientific goal of our space program."

IN OTHER major recommendations, the scientists called for:

1. Immediate steps by NASA to train scientists for active participation investigations "on board vehicles in flight, at extra-terrestrial stations, and on the ground."

Specifically, the group urged establishment of a special institute adjacent to NASA's present training facility at Houston, Tex.—to train scientist-astronauts and allied personnel.

2. Inclusion of meterologists as copilots of manned orbiting space observatories, beginning with the two-man Gemini flights in 1964.

3. Inclusion of biologists as astronauts on the first manned flight to Mars.

4. Making it a matter of national policy that the planet Mars be kept as a "biological preserve"—that is, free of contamination by any organisms from the earth.

On the subject of the nation's present manned space flight program, the scientists said "only short - term goals have been given priority."

The report added that the Gemini and Apollo programs aimed at landing men on the moon by 1970 "are not being used to best advantage in obtaining needed physiological and psychological information on man."

Time Of Compromise

By James Marlow

Kennedy Set To Wheel And Deal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Congress which President Kennedy faced today with his State of the Union message is rather comfortable and unhurried, and therefore conservative.

Kennedy is fairly conservative himself. The country is fairly prosperous, which is what makes Congress complacent. American problems overseas are fairly quiet.

But because of all this he will have to tug and tussle the rest of the year to get anything but the most usual programs through. He made plain in recent statements he expects the same kind of wrestling he had in the past two years.

Shortly after his inauguration in 1961, when he delivered his first State of the Union message, he said: "We take office in the wake of seven months of recession—" It was, indeed, a dull and droopy time.

He had come flush from the 1960 campaign in which he promised to get the country moving again and, more recently than that, from his inaugural address in which he said the torch had been handed to a "new generation of Americans."

He got the country moving with the help of Congress, but not sensationally, although to get it moving was an achievement.

But the legislators, who act like previous generations of Congress and not at all like a new one except when confronted with a feeling of urgency or emergency, were cautious and restrained.

They were equally non-experimental last year as the country, out of its recession, continued to improve. This year the forecasters expect it to do even better, but modestly, without boom or bust.

Kennedy suggests the economy could be bolstered if taxes were cut to give the public and business more money to spend and invest. This is a permanently sore subject.

Some key conservative members of Congress consider a cut a heresy if it means reducing government income without reducing government spending. But the new budget is expected to call for record peacetime spending.

So Kennedy, who has compromised before, will have to compromise on the kind of tax cut he wants, if he hopes to get one at all. He has indicated he's ready to bargain.

1. On how much spending—below what he asks—he will settle for in order to get some kind of tax cut.

2. On some other programs—like medical care and federal aid to education—to win over tax-cut opponents. These were among programs he called for—but did not get—in 1961 and 1962. He did not fight very hard for them. And as if to soothe any wide disappointment beforehand, he has expressed pessimism about the chances for programs like medical care and education aid this year.

Odd Facts

At one time in U.S. history, a foreign-born person was eligible for the presidency. At the time of the adoption of the Constitution, any naturalized citizen, aged 35 years or more, who had been a resident of the U. S. for 14 years was eligible.

Human muscles develop their greatest horsepower between the ages of 20 and 25. After 25 the muscular powers diminish, so gradually at first that one is scarcely aware of being less strong than formerly.

According to one recent survey of foreign sports car drivers in the U. S., about 43 per cent bought their high-powered little cars "because they are fun to drive," about 21 per cent because of appearance and styling, while 20 per cent claimed economy of operation as their major consideration.

There Goes $1.75 Billion

No one is going to find fault with a Defense Department proposal for a general pay increase covering 2.7 million persons in the active armed forces and upward of a million reservists and retired personnel.

Defense Secretary Robert McNamara has made a strong presentation of the case for bringing these people into better alignment with wage scales and benefit payments existing elsewhere. Opposition to his arguments would be absurd.

If the laborer is worthy of his hire, so is the defender. As is generally true of public employes, no one counts on getting rich on a Defense Department payroll, or even on keeping up with the Joneses.

Everything depends on policy-making officials who are supposed to make sure inequities are minimized. Stiff regulations against strikes by public employes are no guarantee that disgruntled employes won't show dissatisfaction.

MEMBERS of the armed services are totally helpless as far as bargaining is concerned. Secretary McNamara acknowledges that in the 4½ years since their last pay and allowance adjustment, "erosion" has taken place — as mild a euphemism for dollar devaluation as anyone is likely to think of for a long time.

The case for a military pay raise and a boost in living and retirement allowances is strong. But the case for adding a pay boost to the military budget now being patched together in the Defense Department is weak.

The increases would add up to $1.75 billion.

This would blot up nearly all the increased revenue from Social Security taxes the government will collect, from the rest of us, beginning this month.

It would be a net addition to the Defense Department budget, which accounts for the bulk of all federal spending; nothing would be cut out to make room for it.

It would be added to the federal deficit, representing the difference between what generous spenders think they must spend and what taxers think they dare to collect.

IT WOULD BE a vivid reflection of the disturbing public philosophy that nothing is too good for people who work for government, who are always represented as an underpaid, overworked lot, but that almost everything is too good for people who produce the wealth on which government subsists, because these people are an overpaid, shiftless lot who try to cheat on income taxes and are reluctant to pay public employes what the employes are said to be worth.

Chances are 10-1 that Secretary McNamara will get the money he wants; he is a persuasive and respected official.

But it should not be forgotten that he is asking for a net addition to the federal deficit at a time when the Kennedy administration is asking for a reduction in federal income.

'Numbers' Game

"A Chester Resident" writes: "Have you noticed the absence in your Review of arrests due to numbers writers since the new law (with so-called teeth in it) went into effect? I haven't seen one! Do you think that they aren't being written? How about an editorial on this subject?"

It would be naive to say that numbers aren't being written. The police are as aware of it as the next person. They know the numbers writers by sight. And it must be remembered that the numbers writers in turn know the police.

Apprehension of the writers in the act is difficult. And obtaining of evidence that will bring convictions in court also is difficult.

We can't promise arrests, but we do know that the police are constantly on the alert against numbers. There complete elimination is always the objective, but it's an objective hard to attain.

All that can be asked is that the police keep cracking down and that the court keeps throwing the book at the offenders when arrests are made.

What's Peculiar About Railroads?

Railroads asking government permission to merge to save themselves have nothing to gain by wondering what might have been if the government had been as careful about giving permission to their competitors to do what they did.

The railroads never are going to get back the business they lost. But they do hope to become competitive enough to keep from losing the business they still have and to increase their share of transportation revenue in the future.

One of the things that seems most deeply ironic to them is the pressure their unionized employes have been able to bring against public officials, to make these worthies testify against mergers in formal hearings.

There has been a great deal of this pressure exerted in the Pennsylvania-New York Central hearing.

Railroad officials and employes who realize that unless operating losses can be checked nobody will be on a payroll can't help but wonder where the testifiers were when public money was being spent to lay down public highways that became rights of way for truckers; where they were hiding when vast amounts of the people's money were spent on airports and in subsidies to the airlines that skimmed off all the cream and most of the milk from railroad passenger business.

Where were the protestors when over-the-highways buses edged in on the rail business?

The idea is not that these great developments should have been blocked when they were in the making. The idea is that they happened, they made their impact on transportation, the railroads, which were held under the thumb of government continuously, got squeezed and now they must listen to people testify against their request for the right to save themselves by combining their resources.

Why should anyone be trying to block this development? What's so unique and peculiar about railroads that they are expected to operate at a loss?

Civil Defense

The city's Civil Defense unit has completed another year's activity and can point to an expanded organization as it moves into 1963.

The major achievement in 1962 was the establishment of 18 fallout shelters, which now are being stocked with supplies.

It is hoped the time never comes when they must be used, but it is comforting to know they're available if needed.

The CD is more or less of an unsung organization, going about its work with little fanfare. Those who are giving of their time and their effort on its behalf deserve the thanks of the rest of us.

Just Normal

By Truman Twill

A magazine I pay attention to—U.S. News & World Report—says this is going to be a "normal" year.

I had to hang on to the chair to keep from swooning when I read this. How long has it been since anything in this country was normal?

The style has been to turn everything into a crisis, an emergency, a turning point, a crossroads, Armageddon, a jumping-off point and say goodbye to the wife and kids.

Even such commonplace things as death have been converted into extraordinary events by the tendency to turn everything into a federal case and call out the Marines and National Guard.

Wheather, which used to be something that happened and was taken in stride day by day, now is electrifying news announced in breathless tones and a diagrammed and diagnosed like a military engagement.

The didoes of the young, once regarded philosophically, now are regarded with pursed lips, behavior charts, psychiatrists and an anvil chorus of social workers beating out a dirge on the one-note theme of juvenile delinquency.

Despite the easily discernible fact that every form of deviltry, sadism and corruption has been repeated so often with such faithful attention to form that no one over 10 years of age should be surprised at one more repetition, all forms of human misbehavior are greeted with shrill cries of "What will they think of next?"

They will think of nothing new; you can bet on it.

The only novel wrinkle in what they've thought of for the last few thousand years is the nuclear bomb, and it still has not been demonstrated that death by nuclear bomb is substantially better or worse than death by stone hatchet or boiling oil.

But business is different. Is it?

Business is good, or it is bad. If it's good, it can be very good, or so-so. If it's bad, it can be Yahh, or it can be three strikes and out.

The truth is that business never has been all good or all bad, so it follows that a little of each must be normal, just as it's normal for people to have good days and bad days, good luck and bad luck, smart days and dumb days.

Or, if you want to flirt with profundity, whatever is and has been since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary is normal, including earthquakes, floods, wars, pestilences and depressions.

Yet by some zany twist of the inverted reasoning that has been foisted on the ordinary run of people by an extraordinary run of rascals with axes to grind, everything lately has been abnormal.

The rascals' motive is not difficult to determine. It's as plain as the axes they are grinding.

Without the plea of emergency, run for the hills, the dam has burst, the lights are going out all over the world and farewell forever old pals and gals the rascals couldn't con anybody into turning the grindstone to sharpen their axes.

The minute they admitted there was nothing to get excited about and no need whatever to call the children in off the streets and pull down the shades the folks out there in television and radio land would ask questions—and that would be so abnormal the jib would be up before the screamers and weepers could get out of town.

More than 100,000 different kinds of plants depend upon the bee for their pollination. Without the bee, we should have no pit fruits, berries or pod vegetables, no apples, pears, peaches, plums, cherries, apricots, raspberries, blackberries, currants, squash, melons, peas, alfalfa, clover, and so on and on.

The original meaning of the word "idiot" was simply "a private person".

Search For Space Life Emphasized

By Frank Carey

WASHINGTON

A group of 100 top - ranking American scientists has urged the government to place more emphasis on searching for life beyond the earth.

They cited international prestige as one consideration and voiced concern that life - detection experiments might not be ready in time for inclusion in the first unmanned capsule landing on Mars, scheduled for 1966.

They said not enough emphasis is being put on developing techniques to sustain astronauts on prolonged flights such as those to the moon and the planets.

AMONG other things, the group called for inclusion of a microphone in the first unmanned capsule to Mars in order to record the swish of any plants waving in the Martian winds and the sounds of any creatures that might be on the prowl.

The recommendations were contained in a 16-chapter report to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration by the Space Science Board of the National Academy of Sciences.

The huge document summarizes discussions and recommendations of a group of government, universtiy and industry scientists who met at the State University of Iowa last summer to appraise the nation's space research. The study was organized by the Space Science Board at the request of the National Space Agency.

While enthusiastically endorsing NASA's space science program on the whole, the group urged that the hunt for extra - terrestrial life be elevated to "the top priority scientific goal of our space program".

It said that up to now NASA's effort in space biology — which would include the search for life on other planets — has been sporadic. NASA, it said, has been giving principal support to biology projects designed to get man into space, as distinguished from experiments aimed at finding whether life exists elsewhere in space.

SAYING THAT Mars looks like the most likely of all the planets for sustaining life, the scientists said "it is not clear that the development of already programmed experiments is proceeding as rapidly as would be appropriate . . . Therefore, it remains an open quesiton whether this program is moving at a pace which will insure the inclusion of life - detection experiments in the first vehicles we shall send toward Mars."

"Of all the discoveries that have come from or can now be anticipated from man's efforts on space science," the report said, "none more easily captures the imagination nor is more likely to focus interest and acclaim than the empiracal proof that there is in this universe a biota (life system) other than our own.

"On solid scientific grounds, on the basis of popular appeal, and in the interests of our prestige as a peace - loving nation capable of great scientific enterprise. . . . Finding and exploring extra-terrestrial life should be acclaimed as the top-priority scientific goal of our space program."

IN OTHER major recommendations, the scientists called for:

1. Immediate steps by NASA to train scientists for active participation investigations "on board vehicles in flight, at extra-terrestrial stations, and on the ground."

Specifically, the group urged establishment of a special institute adjacent to NASA's present training facility at Houston, Tex.—to train scientist-astronauts and allied personnel.

2. Inclusion of meterologists as copilots of manned orbiting space observatories, beginning with the two-man Gemini flights in 1964.

3. Inclusion of biologists as astronauts on the first manned flight to Mars.

4. Making it a matter of national policy that the planet Mars be kept as a "biological preserve"—that is, free of contamination by any organisms from the earth.

On the subject of the nation's present manned space flight program, the scientists said "only short - term goals have been given priority."

The report added that the Gemini and Apollo programs aimed at landing men on the moon by 1970 "are not being used to best advantage in obtaining needed physiological and psychological information on man."

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1911, Norwegian explorer Roald Amundsen and his party reached the Bay of Whales in Antarctica. It was during the party's stay of slightly more than one year that it discovered the South Pole.

On this day:

In 1639, the first written constitution in American history was adopted at Hartford, Conn. Its general outline was followed in framing the U.S. Constitution 150 years later.

In 1956, Congress set up a watchdog agency to monitor activities of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

Kennedy Set To Wheel And Deal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Congress which President Kennedy faced today with his State of the Union message is rather comfortable and unhurried, and therefore conservative.

Kennedy is fairly conservative himself. The country is fairly prosperous, which is what makes Congress complacent. American problems overseas are fairly quiet.

But because of all this he will have to tug and tussle the rest of the year to get anything but the most usual programs through. He made plain in recent statements he expects the same kind of wrestling he had in the past two years.

Hearing Started In Pittsburgh On Railroad Merger

The Interstate Commerce Commission opened two days of public hearings today at Pittsburgh to get varying viewpoints on a proposed merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads.

The proposed joining of the two rail giants has drawn approval and loud denunciation since it was approved by directors of both railroads early last year.

The Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce favors the merger along with the following Pittsburg area-based rail customers: Westinghouse Electric Corp., Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., Pennsylvania Glass Sand Co. and Weirton Steel Co.

Supporters say the merger would create 2,000 new railroad jobs in Pennsylvania. Rail unions dispute this, claiming the move would eliminate 7,800 jobs held by union members.

Other hearings are scheduled Wednesday in Philadelphia; Jan. 21 in New York City and Jan. 28, Newark, N. J. The Washington hearings will resume Feb. 11.

Hearing Started In Pittsburgh On Railroad Merger

The Interstate Commerce Commission opened two days of public hearings today at Pittsburgh to get varying viewpoints on a proposed merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads.

The proposed joining of the two rail giants has drawn approval and loud denunciation since it was approved by directors of both railroads early last year.

The Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce favors the merger along with the following Pittsburg area-based rail customers: Westinghouse Electric Corp., Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., Pennsylvania Glass Sand Co. and Weirton Steel Co.

Supporters say the merger would create 2,000 new railroad jobs in Pennsylvania. Rail unions dispute this, claiming the move would eliminate 7,800 jobs held by union members.

Other hearings are scheduled Wednesday in Philadelphia; Jan. 21 in New York City and Jan. 28, Newark, N. J. The Washington hearings will resume Feb. 11.

Intruder Obtains $70 In Garage Near Salem

A burglar broke into the Bud Shaffer Ford, Inc., building on the N. Ellsworth Rd. north of Salem early this morning and escaped with a money box containing $70, the sheriff's department reported.

Deputy Howard Gray, who investigated, said the intruders gained entry by breaking a window in the north side of the building, reaching in and unlocking the door. The money box was taken from a filing cabinet in the office, he said. Nothing else was disturbed, Gray reported.

The deputy timed the entry at 3:25. He said the burglar apparently pulled the main power switch, stopping the electric clocks at that time, so he could work unobserved in the dark.

Hawk had just arrived home and was alerted that something was wrong when he got inside the eight-room dwelling, noticing a light haze, Chief Lewis said.

His father, outside in an auto, saw the flames and smoke and ran inside to summon the fire department.

Chief Lewis estimated $4,000 damage to the frame home and $1,500 to the contents, all covered by insurance. Twelve firemen responded and succeeded in saving the house from being consumed entirely.

Firemen concluded one of their busiest days in months by investigating an overheated motor on a coal furnace at 5:45 p. m. at the home of Charles LaScola, 1051 Main St.

The home became filled with a light haze and odor, but there was no damage, firemen said.

Wise told police he was pulling out of a private driveway when his car skidded and hit Hoover's.

Devore said he was turning from St. George to Mulberry at the time of the crash. Conley reported he was driving on Mulberry and attempted to halt for a stop sign at the intersection, but his car skidded on ice.

A parked auto was damaged in a mishap Saturday at 9:05 p. m. on Washington St. between E. 5th and E. 6th Sts., police said.

James Goppert, 37, of Box 414, Chester, told police he backed out of an angle parking spot and struck an auto which was parked across the street, damaging its right front door. The owner was unidentified, but the car carried Ohio license T-905-E, he said.

West African Turmoil

Power Fight Grips Togo, President Assassinated

LOME, Togo (AP)—A struggle for leadership of this tiny West African country appeared to be developing today in the wake of a sergeants' revolt and the assassination of President Sylvanus Olympio.

Two men emerged as possible heads of a new government—former Premier Nicolas Grunitsky 49, and Idrissou Antoine Meatchi, 27, a former opposition leader in the Togo Assembly.

A military revolutionary committee that engineered the Sunday coup reportedly appealed to Grunitsky, a brother-in-law of the slain president to return from exile in neighboring Dahomey to form a government.

Rumors spread that Meatchi was already back in Lome from exile in Ghana, which also borders Togo. He had been accused by the Olympio government of aiding exiled political conspirators.

Meatchi, a French-educated Moslem and former civil servant, had been arrested in 1960 for conspiracy. He went to Ghana after his release in mid-1961.

Gunned down on the street outside the U.S. Embassy early Sunday, Olympio apparently was the only casualty of the fast-paced revolt. Gunfire was heard in the streets around 2 a.m. The 60-year-old president's bullet-riddled body was found outside the unlocked embassy gate at dawn.

The body was taken into the embassy. Later Olympio's family removed it.

Most of the other members of his government were arrested. They were reported unharmed and held at a military camp outside Lome.

Olympio visited the United States on an aid-seeking mission last March and President Kennedy praised him as "an exceptional figure on the world scene." The London-educated Olympio was the only African head of state with a command of both English and French, and he also knew some German. His language skills earned him an influential position in African councils.

Togo, a country of 1½ million people, is about the size of West Virginia. It was a French U.N. protectorate when it gained independence in 1960. Before World War I it was a German colony.

In Washington, the White House issued a statement that "the United States government was profoundly shocked by the news of the assassination ... of one of Africa's most distinguished leaders."

Chester Youth Fined $30 In Traffic Cases

NEW CUMBERLAND — Steven Allen Smith, 18, of Chester was fined $20 and costs on a harge of speeding and $10 and costs on a charge of passing at an intersection at a hearing Saturday before Squire John D. Herron.

Smith was cited Friday by West Virginia State Police on State Route 2.

A hearing is scheduled today for Earl C. Kiger, 50, of New Cumberland, charged with reckless driving, improper passing, resisting arrest and being drunk and disorderly. He was cited by Police Chief William Webster.

Driver, 84, Fined $20 For Leaving Accident

SALINEVILLE — William H. Lewis, 84, of R. D. 1 was fined $20 and costs Saturday by Mayor Stanley Fitch on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

Lewis pleaded not guilty to the charge, filed Thursday by Police Chief Roy Lewis after the motorist's 1948 auto hit a parked 1958 car owned by Joseph Maher of W. Main St.

Intruder Obtains $70 In Garage Near Salem

A burglar broke into the Bud Shaffer Ford, Inc., building on the N. Ellsworth Rd. north of Salem early this morning and escaped with a money box containing $70, the sheriff's department reported.

Deputy Howard Gray, who investigated, said the intruders gained entry by breaking a window in the north side of the building, reaching in and unlocking the door. The money box was taken from a filing cabinet in the office, he said. Nothing else was disturbed, Gray reported.

The deputy timed the entry at 3:25. He said the burglar apparently pulled the main power switch, stopping the electric clocks at that time, so he could work unobserved in the dark.

Hawk had just arrived home and was alerted that something was wrong when he got inside the eight-room dwelling, noticing a light haze, Chief Lewis said.

His father, outside in an auto, saw the flames and smoke and ran inside to summon the fire department.

Chief Lewis estimated $4,000 damage to the frame home and $1,500 to the contents, all covered by insurance. Twelve firemen responded and succeeded in saving the house from being consumed entirely.

Firemen concluded one of their busiest days in months by investigating an overheated motor on a coal furnace at 5:45 p. m. at the home of Charles LaScola, 1051 Main St.

The home became filled with a light haze and odor, but there was no damage, firemen said.

West African Turmoil

Power Fight Grips Togo, President Assassinated

LOME, Togo (AP)—A struggle for leadership of this tiny West African country appeared to be developing today in the wake of a sergeants' revolt and the assassination of President Sylvanus Olympio.

Two men emerged as possible heads of a new government—former Premier Nicolas Grunitsky 49, and Idrissou Antoine Meatchi, 27, a former opposition leader in the Togo Assembly.

A military revolutionary committee that engineered the Sunday coup reportedly appealed to Grunitsky, a brother-in-law of the slain president to return from exile in neighboring Dahomey to form a government.

Rumors spread that Meatchi was already back in Lome from exile in Ghana, which also borders Togo. He had been accused by the Olympio government of aiding exiled political conspirators.

Meatchi, a French-educated Moslem and former civil servant, had been arrested in 1960 for conspiracy. He went to Ghana after his release in mid-1961.

Gunned down on the street outside the U.S. Embassy early Sunday, Olympio apparently was the only casualty of the fast-paced revolt. Gunfire was heard in the streets around 2 a.m. The 60-year-old president's bullet-riddled body was found outside the unlocked embassy gate at dawn.

The body was taken into the embassy. Later Olympio's family removed it.

Most of the other members of his government were arrested. They were reported unharmed and held at a military camp outside Lome.

Olympio visited the United States on an aid-seeking mission last March and President Kennedy praised him as "an exceptional figure on the world scene." The London-educated Olympio was the only African head of state with a command of both English and French, and he also knew some German. His language skills earned him an influential position in African councils.

Togo, a country of 1½ million people, is about the size of West Virginia. It was a French U.N. protectorate when it gained independence in 1960. Before World War I it was a German colony.

In Washington, the White House issued a statement that "the United States government was profoundly shocked by the news of the assassination ... of one of Africa's most distinguished leaders."

SALINEVILLE — William H. Lewis, 84, of R. D. 1 was fined $20 and costs Saturday by Mayor Stanley Fitch on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

Owner, Wife Injured

Empty Auto Leaves Barn, Then Smashes Into Home

"I couldn't have driven into there any better," a 60-year-old Wellsville area man said of his 1960 auto which smashed out of a barn Sunday afternoon—minus a driver—traveled up a slight 70-foot grade and battered its way into his basement home, slightly injuring his wife.

Louis E. Ehlenbach of McCormick Rd., Wellsville, was struck and bruised by a piece of the barn door which hit him as the car roared out of the barn, and his wife, Mrs. Flossie Ehlenbach, was treated at City Hospital for bruises suffered when she was knocked out of a chair by the crash.

Ehlenbach, a meter reader for the Ohio Power Co., was attempting to repair the sedan in the barn yesterday afternoon about 1:40, having had trouble with the ignition switch.

He said he apparently bumped the gear shift into low as he climbed from the seat to check the solenoid coil, and when he put a jumper wire on the coil the motor started and the car moved forward.

Trying to get back into the car to stop it, he was knocked down and as the vehicle burst through the wooden door, a piece struck him, Ehlenbach said.

The car traveled up the slight grade of the drive, veered slightly to the left and battered into a set of double garage doors in the basement home, he went on. It went right between the door frames, missing the concrete block walls.

He said the auto smashed through the doors — which were serving as a temporary wall — and came about seven feet into the basement home, shoving a desk and clothes drier and finally a piano which halted it.

His wife was sitting in a reclining chair and the piano apparently hit the chair, jolting her out.

Two grandchildren had departed the home only a few minutes before. They had been playing in the area where the car struck, he said, commenting on how close the youngsters had come to the danger.

The hood and some chrome on the auto were scratched and the windshield broken, but otherwise the car was not greatly damaged, Ehlenbach reported.

He said he called by shortwave radio on his Citizens Band transceiver to a friend at Glenmoor for some materials he needed to repair the damage to the wall.

In a very short time, a number of members of the Pennova Citizens Band Club, who had heard of his mishap on the air, showed up and with plywood and plastic quickly made repairs in the bitterly cold wind.

Ehlenbach said the runaway incident has capped a history of grievances connected with the auto and its malfunctions, and he plans to trade it in "very shortly."

Owner, Wife Injured

Empty Auto Leaves Barn, Then Smashes Into Home

"I couldn't have driven into there any better," a 60-year-old Wellsville area man said of his 1960 auto which smashed out of a barn Sunday afternoon—minus a driver—traveled up a slight 70-foot grade and battered its way into his basement home, slightly injuring his wife.

Louis E. Ehlenbach of McCormick Rd., Wellsville, was struck and bruised by a piece of the barn door which hit him as the car roared out of the barn, and his wife, Mrs. Flossie Ehlenbach, was treated at City Hospital for bruises suffered when she was knocked out of a chair by the crash.

Ehlenbach, a meter reader for the Ohio Power Co., was attempting to repair the sedan in the barn yesterday afternoon about 1:40, having had trouble with the ignition switch.

He said he apparently bumped the gear shift into low as he climbed from the seat to check the solenoid coil, and when he put a jumper wire on the coil the motor started and the car moved forward.

Trying to get back into the car to stop it, he was knocked down and as the vehicle burst through the wooden door, a piece struck him, Ehlenbach said.

The car traveled up the slight grade of the drive, veered slightly to the left and battered into a set of double garage doors in the basement home, he went on. It went right between the door frames, missing the concrete block walls.

He said the auto smashed through the doors — which were serving as a temporary wall — and came about seven feet into the basement home, shoving a desk and clothes drier and finally a piano which halted it.

His wife was sitting in a reclining chair and the piano apparently hit the chair, jolting her out.

Two grandchildren had departed the home only a few minutes before. They had been playing in the area where the car struck, he said, commenting on how close the youngsters had come to the danger.

The hood and some chrome on the auto were scratched and the windshield broken, but otherwise the car was not greatly damaged, Ehlenbach reported.

He said he called by shortwave radio on his Citizens Band transceiver to a friend at Glenmoor for some materials he needed to repair the damage to the wall.

In a very short time, a number of members of the Pennova Citizens Band Club, who had heard of his mishap on the air, showed up and with plywood and plastic quickly made repairs in the bitterly cold wind.

Ehlenbach said the runaway incident has capped a history of grievances connected with the auto and its malfunctions, and he plans to trade it in "very shortly."

Crash Hurts 2 Stark Men

Two Alliance men were injured in one of three traffic mishaps reported over the weekend by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

A car driven by Walter Hoffman, 65, of Alliance skidded off Route 30 about a mile south of Lisbon Saturday night at 10, smashed through guardrails and went down an embankment, officers said.

Kenneth Kelley, 56, of Alliance suffered a shoulder injury and Alex Anderson, 65, received bruises and shock in the crash. The Stark Countians were to be treated by their physicians. There was extensive damage to the auto, the patrol said.

Earnest Pifer, 27, of North Georgetown was cited after his car and one operated by Norman Sangree, 19, of Salem R.D. collided on County Rd. 400 Sunday morning about 12:15.

The patrol said Pifer was headed west on Prospect Rd. about a half mile southwest of Salem and drove into the path of the southbound auto of Sangree. Neither was injured, according to officers, who cited Pifer for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Officers are continuing an investigation of a mishap in which Leroy Louk, 52, of E. Clark St., East Palestine, was injured when his car hit a parked auto along Route 14 Saturday.

Louk, taken to Salem City Hospital with cuts of the lip, a fractured wrist and chest bruises, went off the side of the road and hit a parked auto owned by Ralph Waggaman of North Lima R.D. The mishap occurred about four miles east of Route 7.

Official Speaks At Area Meeting Of Legionnaires

SALEM — Donald L. Gruenbaum of Marysville, Ohio Department first vice commander, spoke on rehabilitation of veterans at the American Legion 10th District conference Sunday at the Junior High School.

About 200 attended the session yesterday, which concluded the district's two-day meeting here. Gruenbaum also stressed the importance of increasing membership in the Legion.

Four schools on veterans affairs and community service were conducted.

Past Department Commander Chester Stellar of Creston, was among the guests.

About 300 legionnaires attended the two-day conference.

Ohio Woman Held In Hisband's Slaying

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Loretta Page, 23, was to be arraigned today in Municipal Court in the shooting death of her estranged husband, Leon.

Police said Page, 22, was shot through the heart early Saturday after crashing an all-night party at Mrs. Page's apartment.

Mrs. Page was charged with first-degree manslaughter.

Detectives quoted a witness as saying Mrs. Page told her husband, "If I had a gun I'd kill you," and Page handed her a cocked .22 caliber revolver from his pocket.

Alfred Oponowicz, 37, of Youngstown, Ohio, also known as James Mallory, was released on $10,000 bond Saturday after being arraigned on a charge of attempting to crack a safe at New Castle's Gaylord Department Store in 1961.

Oponowicz, a nationally-known safecracking expert, was arrested last Wednesday at Pittsburgh with a Salem man and his brother and a Pittsburgher for taking tools worth $2,500 from the Power Tool and Supply Co.

He along with James Dinsio, 33, of Salem, Amil Dinsio, 26, of Poland, and Daniel Boscia, 40, of Carrick were surprised by police as they prepared to leave the tool concern.

Because the defendant is being held in the County Jail at Lisbon on two Grand Jury indictments, a hearing for John Hoback, 25, of 1201 Oak St. on a non - support charge was continued indefinitely today in Municipal Court.

Hoback's hearing had been continued from Dec. 13, when he was arraigned on a charge of failing to support three minor children filed by Mrs. Barbara Hoback.

Hoback was indicted last week by the Grand Jury on charges of burglary and auto theft filed by city police after an entry was made last month at Central Service, Inc., on W. 7th St.

ARE YOU MAKING THE ANTI-ACID MISTAKE?
Important News for Every INDIGESTION, HEARTBURN, INTESTINAL GAS SUFFERER!

Now, for the first time you can apply the brakes to stomach distress before the trouble begins. Up to now, anti-acids have been used mostly to relieve stomach upset after suffering the pangs of distress. Now, thanks to a new, natural formulation called MIAZYME you may eliminate the discomforts of indigestion, heartburn and intestinal gas caused by poor digestion of foods.

If you properly digest the food you eat, chances are you will not suffer stomach distress. This is because of the action of enzymes, manufactured in the digestive process. When these enzymes fall below par—as age increases, enzymatic action may become inadequate, or, as medical science knows, today's fast, hectic living pace can create distress caused by stomach tensions—you are apt to suffer indigestion, gas, bloating, heartburn, cramps and other uncomfortable forms of stomach upset.

Why risk making the anti-acid mistake? Just two MIAZYME capsules a day is all it takes to help eliminate the discomforts of indigestion, heartburn, gas and open the door to new vistas in food enjoyment.

MIAZYME contains no narcotics! No habit forming drugs! No harmful side effects, taken as directed. So safe, no prescription is needed! Get MIAZYME today at your favorite drug store and break the anti-acid routine. Try it for 6 days on a NO RISK GUARANTEE. You must be completely satisfied or your money refunded. Regular size, $1.50. House Is As Old As Its Arteries

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

A house, like a person, has its age periods, from birth to prime to old age.

And like man, it has its arteries, the little pipes that thread their way throughout the home. Their condition may be determined by the original material of the pipes, their age and upkeep. House pipes often become so rusted that a trickle of water can just barely make it from well to faucet.

But unlike man who must live with his clogged arteries, house pipes may be replaced, giving the house a new lease on life.

A couple of house sellers found this out recently, after two years of having a house on the market, reducing the price month after month.

They discovered people were rejecting it because of the bad plumbing, but they didn't want to part with $900 to have new pipes put in, always hoping that the new buyer would take on the job. After they had lopped some $4,500 off the price, they gave in, selling the house three weeks after the pipes were replaced — for their original asking price.

BUYERS do not always reveal the true reason for rejecting a house.

They don't reject it when the problem may be remedied easily for a sum within reason. Women want pretty kitchens and closets, but often they will be willing to take a house when the husband guarantees that the dream kitchen will be installed.

But pipes are something else again. A man buying a house doesn't know what problems he will face when he tries to replace old pipes.

He won't mind that windows rattle and floor boards squeak. He knows these things can be fixed. But he doesn't want to buy unseen problems, like plumbing.

He knows he can figure the cost of replacing the oil burner, the pump, the hot water heater. But he doesn't want to buy any mysteries.

In old houses pipes often were installed by homeowners themselves who replaced them from time to time, often in an artery that is impossible to figure out, especially with no plan available. When they enlarged their small dwellings, the problems increased as barriers were built around pipes without giving a thought to keeping them accessible for replacement.

ANYONE who plans to sell an old house should update the plumbing before putting the house on the market. You should have a chart available showing how the pipes have been installed in the house. Money invested for new pipes, new bathroom and kitchen fixtures may be the best investment you can make.

An old house has charm and patina that is the envy of the little old ranch houses that have sprung up around it. But the interlopers have something that old houses do not have: shiny new innards.

True, the service man is around all the time, and architects predict the new house won't last like the old, but when the time comes to sell, there won't be a problem. While the old house nearby can wear a "for sale" sign until it rots, the new house has no difficulty in attracting tenants.

Experienced house buyers need no cautions in respect to their purchase. But first-time house buyers should be wary.

One young couple who bought an old house to save money, figuring they would make repairs as they went along, laid expensive flooring in the bathroom, only to find at the first leak that the floor had to be torn up to replace the old pipes that were beneath it.

Care Should Be Taken In Applying Lacquer

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Durable, heat-resistant and waterproof, lacquer is one of the finest of finishes.

But it also is one that requires careful, knowledgeable application to obtain satisfactory results.

A combined advantage and disadvantage of lacquer is that it dries quickly, almost instantly. Because of this, it picks up less dust from the air and permits several applications in a single day. At the same time, the fast-drying quality can mean trouble in attempting to get a smooth coat.

Before lacquering anything for the first time, it is wise to practice on several pieces of scrap wood until you get the hang of it.

Lacquer should be thinned about 50-50 with lacquer thinner for most applications, varying the percentages as you desire once you have learned the technique. Buy brushing or spraying lacquer depending on the equipment being used.

The brush is dipped into lacquer and applied generously in broad, sweeping strokes. Overlap the previous strokes slightly.

You must work quickly and be certain that you have enough time to finish a complete panel at once. You can't stop — even for a few minutes — and then return to the job. Probably the most important thing to remember is never to go back over the same spot a second time.

If you do, the entire area immediately will take on a muddy appearance. Instead, rely on the second coat to fill in the area properly, since each coat of lacquer sinks into the previous one.

There are two schools of thought on whether lacquer should be sanded between coats. When first starting to use this finish, try a very light sanding after the first coat has dried. In many cases, two coats of lacquer will be sufficient, but the finish usually will have added durability if at least three are applied.

Lacquer is volatile. Use it only where there is plenty of ventilation. To turn a glossy coat of lacquer into a more satiny effect, sometimes desired, rub down the dried final coat with a clean cloth and a mixture of pumice and oil.

Mother Of 9 Quizzed In Man's Gun Death

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The prosecutor was expected to decide today whether to file charges against a 37-year-old mother of nine children in the fatal shooting of John Sanders, 44, of Ravenna.

Police said Sanders was shot early Sunday in the home of Mrs. Odessa Sanders here. Police said the two were not related but that Sanders was a former boy friend of the woman.

Mrs. Sanders called police late Saturday night and complained that the man refused to leave her house.

Sanders left then, but returned later, Mrs. Sanders told authorities. She was quoted by police as saying she pulled out a pistol and fired when Sanders chased her upstairs.

Hand Tools Require Care

AP Newsfeatures

No matter how many power tools are in your home workshop, there is always a need for the old reliable hand tools, such as the hammer, screwdriver, pliers, etc.

Oddly enough, many persons who have become proficient in the use of electric machines in recent years have no parallel skill in the use of hand tools.

Here are some tips about handling the non-power equipment in your shop:

Use only a wrist movement in driving a small nail with a hammer, bending the elbow for larger nails and striking hard with full-arm action for very large nail In using a chisel, keep the left hand (if you are right-handed) behind the cutting edge at all times.

Remember that it is easier and quicker to make several thin cuts with a chisel than one thick one, in addition to insuring a more professional result.

In making a hole in wood with an awl, the edge of the tool should be pushed into the wood across the grain, as there is a possibility of splitting the stock if this is done along the grain.

On the other hand, the clenching of nails into wood should always be along the grain, since this adds strength to the fastening.

In cutting with a hacksaw, be sure that the work is held firmly in a vise, that the blade is held tightly in its frame and that you remember the principle that the cutting is done on the forward stroke.

The cutting also is done on the forward stroke when filing, so be sure no pressure is exerted in drawing back the file.

Old screwdrivers can be renewed by grinding the tips, but be certain the grinding is done straight across so that the tips will fit firmly into the heads of screws.

Attaching a piece of tempered hardboard to the top of your workbench will insure an excellent working surface that will resist dents and other mars.

Screw the hardboard into the workbench top so that, if necessary, it can be removed and replaced at a later date, although this is unlikely to occur for several years.

New Plant Operations

CLEVELAND (AP)—Operations have been resumed at the 10-inch bar mill of Republic Steel Corp.'s steel plant here following an $8.5 million rebuilding program, E. R. Johnson, assistant president, announced today.

The mill is now equipped to produce a wide range of uniformly high quality bar products as fast and efficiently as any facility of its kind in the industry, he said.

House Is As Old As Its Arteries

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

A house, like a person, has its age periods, from birth to prime to old age.

And like man, it has its arteries, the little pipes that thread their way throughout the home.

Their condition may be determined by the original material of the pipes, their age and upkeep. House pipes often become so rusted that a trickle of water can just barely make it from well to faucet.

But unlike man who must live with his clogged arteries, house pipes may be replaced, giving the house a new lease on life.

A couple of house sellers found this out recently, after two years of having a house on the market, reducing the price month after month.

They discovered people were rejecting it because of the bad plumbing, but they didn't want to part with $900 to have new pipes put in, always hoping that the new buyer would take on the job. After they had lopped some $4,500 off the price, they gave in, selling the house three weeks after the pipes were replaced — for their original asking price.

BUYERS do not always reveal the true reason for rejecting a house.

They don't reject it when the problem may be remedied easily for a sum within reason. Women want pretty kitchens and closets, but often they will be willing to take a house when the husband guarantees that the dream kitchen will be installed.

But pipes are something else again. A man buying a house doesn't know what problems he will face when he tries to replace old pipes.

He won't mind that windows rattle and floor boards squeak. He knows these things can be fixed. But he doesn't want to buy unseen problems, like plumbing.

He knows he can figure the cost of replacing the oil burner, the pump, the hot water heater. But he doesn't want to buy any mysteries.

In old houses pipes often were installed by homeowners themselves who replaced them from time to time, often in an artery that is impossible to figure out, especially with no plan available. When they enlarged their small dwellings, the problems increased as barriers were built around pipes without giving a thought to keeping them accessible for replacement.

ANYONE who plans to sell an old house should update the plumbing before putting the house on the market. You should have a chart available showing how the pipes have been installed in the house. Money invested for new pipes, new bathroom and kitchen fixtures may be the best investment you can make.

An old house has charm and patina that is the envy of the little old ranch houses that have sprung up around it. But the interlopers have something that old houses do not have: shiny new innards.

True, the service man is around all the time, and architects predict the new house won't last like the old, but when the time comes to sell, there won't be a problem. While the old house nearby can wear a "for sale" sign until it rots, the new house has no difficulty in attracting tenants.

Beaver Creek Park Area Pushed By Pennsylvania

Pennsylvania's development of the Beaver Creek area as a park under the "Project 70" plan may be the first to be undertaken, according to tentative details listed for nine new Keystone State parks over the weekend.

A program of land acquisition already is underway for the parks, which are to be developed over a 20-year period.

A lake is scheduled as part of the Little Beaver Creek project, biggest and probably the first to be undertaken.

Dr. C. F. Lewis, head of the Western Pennsylvania Conservancy, said each of the nine parks is being set up to keep intact some natural or historic attraction which might otherwise be lost for future generations.

He announced the acquisition of a new 1,000-acre tract of land for a park at Ohiopyle on the Youghiogheny River, including the 2,700-foot high Sugar Mountain, eyed as a ski run.

The Little Beaver Creek Park, planned to cover 22,000 acres between East Palestine and Darlington and extending south as far as East Liverpool, will preserve the natural beauty of the creek gorge and forestlands.

The park is being worked out through plans for an Ohio-Pennsylvania compact similar to that which governs Pymatuning State Park.

"Much of this area has been strip-mined and converting the area into a park will be a job of restoration as well as preservation," Dr. Lewis said.

Dr. Lewis expressed the hope that the incoming Republican administration would continue to push the Project 70 work, particularly in the field of land acquisition.

"It is important that we acquire the land for these parks now," he said. "Later on it might not be available or will be too highly priced to purchase. Development of the parks can come later after the land is acquired."

Other Pennsylvania parks are planned at Elk Creek in Erie County, Sandy Creek in Mercer County, Oil Creek Gorge and Allegheny Gorge in Venango County, Conemaugh Gorge in Cambria County, Buffalo Creek in Butler and Armstrong Counties and Sandy Creek in Fayette County.

Fruit And Vegetable Prices Continue Rise After Freeze

Prices of many fresh fruits and vegetables are continuing to rise in district markets as a result of the recent "big freeze" in Florida growing regions, according to the market information service of the Agriculture Extension Service in Canfield.

Bananas are following citrus fruit to higher price levels. This probably is a result of many homemakers shifting buying habits from oranges and tangerines to other fruits because of increased prices on citrus.

The situation is further complicated by a little freeze damage to California fruit last week. California already had reported one of the smallest crops of oranges in several years.

This situation in fresh fruit has developed to the point where there are only two kinds of economically priced fruit widely available, apples and grapes. Apple prices thus far have been affected to only a limited extent.

Generally the most economical of the grape varieties are Emperor, followed by Almerias and Ribiers. Calmerias, a green grape, are somewhat higher in price.

Among the citrus fruits, grapefruit has changed price the least. This is especially true of the smaller sizes, 40-48s for example.

Prices are fairly steady on head lettuce, carrots and potatoes. These three, together with celery and sweet potatoes, represent some of the better values in fresh vegetables.

In a general way, most all greens still are quite high when compared with the pre-freeze period. Some of the prices are beginning to adjust downward. Escarole and endive are examples of this downward movement.

Radishes, lettuce and cabbage are other examples of vegetables on a downward price movement following last month's increase. Cucumbers still are quite scarce. Most of our supplies are coming from the Bahamas.

Rhubarb, from Michigan hot houses, is just beginning to become available in local stores. This item still is quite high in price, but will gradually become lower in the coming weeks.

Like last week, poultry fryers and ground beef are common economy choice for meat. Live cattle prices were a bit lower last week which will show up in retail markets this week.

This reduction is quite small and will be reflected mostly in the lower - priced cuts such as ground beef and chuck roasts.

About 20 per cent more broiler fryers than last January will keep this popular item on many "special" lists for this week and next. Egg prices are largely unchanged.

John Sheffler of East Liverpool was honored Saturday night by fellow workers on his retirement from the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. after 36½ years service.

Sheffler, whose retirement is effective Feb. 1, spent his last day on the job Friday. He was a slag checker in the hot strip department, where he had worked 14 years.

He also worked 17 years in the open hearth department and three or four years in the blooming mill, where he was a pit recorder. He started his career in the plant laboratory.

About 50 attended the affair at Deramo's Restaurant. There were remarks by Charles R. Schmitt of Midland, division superintendent of the cold strip and hot strip departments, Steve Trbovich of Midland, superintendent, and Jess Finley of East Liverpool, assistant superintendent, both of the hot strip department.

Trbovich said: "We are losing one of our most valuable men."

Sheffler and his wife reside at 1014 Houston Ave. They plan to visit Florida about March to see if they would like to retire there.

Waitress Shown Proof In Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Sandra Johnson, 19, a waitress at the Rosebud Grill on Dayton's near West Side, will believe the next customer who says he can open a cigarette machine.

Two young men entered Sunday. One sat at the counter, the other loitered near the cigarette machine.

One man said, "I bet I could get into this machine."

The waitress, thinking he was joking, said, "Go ahead!"

He did.

When she tried to thwart the theft, the man gave her a shove back to the counter and he and his buddy fled—with change and cigarettes filched from the machine.

Air Crash Fatal To 3 Probed In Michigan

WARREN, Mich. (AP) — State aeronautics officials today were investigating the crash of a private plane here Saturday which claimed the lives of three New York State men.

Fred Waite, assistant director of operations for the Michigan Department of Aeronautics, said Saturday that preliminary investigation indicated heavy icing probably resulted in the loss of control by the plane's pilot.

Ohio Lists 4 Road Deaths

By The Associated Press

Snow and bitterly-cold weather —two things that help keep people at home—probably were responsible in part for a relatively safe weekend for Ohio motoroists.

Most of the state had snow, ice and sub - freezing temperatures, but with a few exceptions the highways were clear.

In the period from 6 p.m. Friday until Sunday midnight, at least four persons died in traffic accidents. Two deaths were attributed to miscellaneous accidents for an overall count of six.

The fatalities:

Sunday

Mrs. Joan Soehner, 35, Hamilton, when the car she was in crashed into another auto at a red light in Hamilton.

Saturday

Friday

Fugitive Seized In Wayne County

CLEVELAND (AP) — Franklin D. Austin, who had been living outdoors much of the time for the past week in an effort to evade FBI agents, was captured over the weekend at the home of his father in Wayne County, the FBI reported.

Austin, 29, who had been sought since he fled the Mount Vernon Honor camp in Knox County last August, spent Saturday night outdoors when the temperature dropped to six degrees above zero, said Edward E. Hargett, agent in charge of the FBI office here.

Hargett said Austin was serving a 10-25-year sentence for armed robbery and automobile theft when he escaped Aug. 26. He was brought to Medina County Jail and was to be arraigned here today on a charge of unlawful flight to avoid confinement.

President Kennedy made 360 speeches and Richard M. Nixon 312 in the last presidential campaign.

Gem-Wise
Jewelry fashions, facts, fictions

By J. A. LOCKE, JR.
Member American Gem Society

Ever wonder why we wear jewelry, and how it all started anyway? History tells us that jewelry making-and-wearing—predates the use of clothing. Primitive man and woman discovered at an early date that wearing attractive pebbles and bits of shell around their necks made them stand out in a crowd. It wasn't too long after that, that various legends and superstitions began to attach themselves to certain varieties of these stones.

Later, jeweled ornaments became useful in fastening woven garments around shoulders, and about that same time, found a place in primitive barter systems. In the middle ages, jewels were a useful form of capital, honored in every land, and very easily carried with one in time of peril.

We all know how a lovely woman is made even more attractive by a well-chosen piece of jewelry. But it was man who discovered this first. For several generations, it was he who wore the jewels . . . the woman, if she was lucky, and married, occasionally being given a simple gold ring as an adornment.

Shakespeare, in "Two Gentlemen of Verona" said "Dumb jewels often in their silent kind, more quick than words, do move a woman's mind." This signaled the era of woman's greatest achievements in the art of jewel wearing. Marie Antoinette, Queen Elizabeth I and all the others that followed rejoiced in their jewel wardrobes. Even today, if anyone wants to "move a woman's mind", there is no better way than by selecting a lovely jewelry piece from our outstanding collection. Whether its to be a diamond ring or a simple gold bracelet, do visit us first. We'll be happy to help you select the ideal gift for her.

22,000-Acre Tract Eyed

Beaver Creek Park Area Pushed By Pennsylvania

Pennsylvania's development of the Beaver Creek area as a park under the "Project 70" plan may be the first to be undertaken, according to tentative details listed for nine new Keystone State parks over the weekend.

A program of land acquisition already is underway for the parks, which are to be developed over a 20-year period.

A lake is scheduled as part of the Little Beaver Creek project, biggest and probably the first to be undertaken.

Dr. C. F. Lewis, head of the Western Pennsylvania Conservancy, said each of the nine parks is being set up to keep intact some natural or historic attraction which might otherwise be lost for future generations.

He announced the acquisition of a new 1,000-acre tract of land for a park at Ohiopyle on the Youghiogheny River, including the 2,700-foot high Sugar Mountain, eyed as a ski run.

The Little Beaver Creek Park, planned to cover 22,000 acres between East Palestine and Darlington and extending south as far as East Liverpool, will preserve the natural beauty of the creek gorge and forestlands.

The park is being worked out through plans for an Ohio-Pennsylvania compact similar to that which governs Pymatuning State Park.

"Much of this area has been strip-mined and converting the area into a park will be a job of restoration as well as preservation," Dr. Lewis said.

Dr. Lewis expressed the hope that the incoming Republican administration would continue to push the Project 70 work, particularly in the field of land acquisition.

"It is important that we acquire the land for these parks now," he said. "Later on it might not be available or will be too highly priced to purchase. Development of the parks can come later after the land is acquired."

Other Pennsylvania parks are planned at Elk Creek in Erie County, Sandy Creek in Mercer County, Oil Creek Gorge and Allegheny Gorge in Venango County, Conemaugh Gorge in Cambria County, Buffalo Creek in Butler and Armstrong Counties and Sandy Creek in Fayette County.

Fruit And Vegetable Prices Continue Rise After Freeze

Prices of many fresh fruits and vegetables are continuing to rise in district markets as a result of the recent "big freeze" in Florida growing regions, according to the market information service of the Agriculture Extension Service in Canfield.

Bananas are following citrus fruit to higher price levels. This probably is a result of many homemakers shifting buying habits from oranges and tangerines to other fruits because of increased prices on citrus.

The situation is further complicated by a little freeze damage to California fruit last week. California already had reported one of the smallest crops of oranges in several years.

This situation in fresh fruit has developed to the point where there are only two kinds of economically priced fruit widely available, apples and grapes. Apple prices thus far have been affected to only a limited extent.

Generally the most economical of the grape varieties are Emperor, followed by Almerias and Ribiers. Calmerias, a green grape, are somewhat higher in price.

Among the citrus fruits, grapefruit has changed price the least. This is especially true of the smaller sizes, 40-48s for example.

Prices are fairly steady on head lettuce, carrots and potatoes. These three, together with celery and sweet potatoes, represent some of the better values in fresh vegetables.

In a general way, most all greens still are quite high when compared with the pre-freeze period. Some of the prices are beginning to adjust downward. Escarole and endive are examples of this downward movement.

Radishes, lettuce and cabbage are other examples of vegetables on a downward price movement following last month's increase. Cucumbers still are quite scarce. Most of our supplies are coming from the Bahamas.

Rhubarb, from Michigan hot houses, is just beginning to become available in local stores. This item still is quite high in price, but will gradually become lower in the coming weeks.

Like last week, poultry fryers and ground beef are common economy choice for meat. Live cattle prices were a bit lower last week which will show up in retail markets this week.

This reduction is quite small and will be reflected mostly in the lower - priced cuts such as ground beef and chuck roasts.

About 20 per cent more broiler fryers than last January will keep this popular item on many "special" lists for this week and next. Egg prices are largely unchanged.

Sheffler, whose retirement is effective Feb. 1, spent his last day on the job Friday. He was a slag checker in the hot strip department, where he had worked 14 years.

He also worked 17 years in the open hearth department and three or four years in the blooming mill, where he was a pit recorder. He started his career in the plant laboratory.

About 50 attended the affair at Deramo's Restaurant. There were remarks by Charles R. Schmitt of Midland, division superintendent of the cold strip and hot strip departments, Steve Trbovich of Midland, superintendent, and Jess Finley of East Liverpool, assistant superintendent, both of the hot strip department.

Trbovich said: "We are losing one of our most valuable men."

Jack Kelly of East Liverpool, who served as toastmaster, presented Sheffler with a gift from the employes. Walter Baumgard of Vanport gave the invocation.

Sheffler and his wife reside at 1014 Houston Ave. They plan to visit Florida about March to see if they would like to retire there.

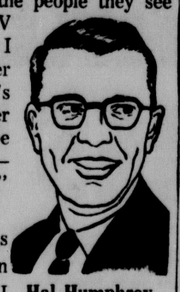
Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Now Everybody Has Somebody To Talk To

Someone is going to take a survey and discover that a high percentage of regular TV viewers talk back to the people they see on their TV screens. I dropped over to a friend's house the other evening. "Joe is in the den—go right on in," his wife said.



Hal Humphrey

Just as I was about to open the den door I heard Joe say, "Oh no! Not that cat bit again. Why don't you just fall off and get yourself a fat lip?"

-:-

I FIGURED Joe's wife had neglected to tell me that there was someone with him, but there he was in his easy chair all alone and watching TV.

"Didn't I hear you talking?" I asked, slightly bewildered.

"Yeah,' said Joe, a little embarrassed. "It was that blankety-blank commercial about the guy who climbs up on his roof to get his kid's cat, then he gets down and sucks on that cigarette as if he'd just orbited the earth. I I guess I was mumbling at him."

"You talk back to the TV often?" I asked.

"Sure, whenever I get a chance. Relieves the ol' hostility build-up," said Joe, in a feeble attempt to laugh the whole thing off.

THIS IS WHEN I realized that Joe wasn't unique. Every time Jack Paar prefaces some anecdote by saying, "Now this is the truth, so help me, this really happened," I find myself retorting, "Oh, for goodness sake, man, get on with it — who gives a hoot if it really happened!"

I also talk back to the commercials. One of my favorite pastimes is to adopt a derisive tone of voice and ape that washing machine repairman who's always grinning and simpering about the suds level.

THE WIFE of another friend of mine reports that politicians are what set him to haranguing the TV set.

"Our house sounded like a mixture of Town Hall Meeting and a Latin American riot when the election campaign was hot last fall," she says.

"Bill would sit in front of TV shouting, 'Don't give me that tax cut routine — you're one of those socialized medicine nuts!' And you should hear him do his imitation of Mayor Yorty every time he is on TV!"

Los Angeles' Mayor Sam Yorty doesn't have the most melodious speaking voice in politics. It strikes a monotone pitch similar to that one gets when humming a comb covered with tissue paper.

If you don't happen to agree with what he is propounding (via your TV tube), it is great sport to put in your own 2 cents worth of mimicking.

SPORTS FANS who used to vent their venom on the referees, umpires and managers are the biggest talker backers to TV. They now sit at home and bum-rap the sportscasters.

If affable Mel Allen could have heard the things being shouted at him from our living rooms during NBC's Rose Bowl game recently, he'd find himself a bomb shelter and wouldn't peek out of it until Ground Hog Day.

The habit of yakking at the TV set has made theater and movie audiences incorrigible. Actress Geraldine Page recently was quoted as saying, "You can stand on a stage now and during a performance hear the most inane comments from the audience. . . they don't even try to keep their voices down. They behave as through they were watching TV in their homes."

HOW DOES Miss Page know that people behave so vociferously at home in front of TV? Obviously she, too, has observed this phenomenon first hand, or indulged herself with some back talk at her own TV.

Remember how fearful our intelligensia became over what might happen to the "art of conversation" as more and more people gave themselves up to watching TV? Maybe we aren't speaking to each other as much, but we're talking a blue streak to that TV screen.

Gimmick Helps Cut Down On Calories

Dieting can be a dreary affair, if you let it be. Why let it! With a spunky turn of mind and a little ingenuity, you can be one-down on the calorie score every time.

Ida Jean Kain

People who practice "upmanship" take positive delight in being one-up in any slippery situation. Well, play the game to be one-down on daily calories. This sporting proposition can be diverting, slimming too.

To get excited about it, tune in some of the devices that enabled other dieters to be a whooping one-down on calories.

IN REPLY TO the homemaker who asked how to stop "tasting" while preparing a meal, here is a unique plan passed along by an imaginative dieter.

Figuring a person can chew only one thing at a time, she chews sugarless gum while preparing dinner. Since gum and food do not mix, one would have to remove the gum to taste the food. That would be more trouble than tasting is worth, and so gum chewing really does the trick and prevents intensive sampling.

Or, try this habit breaker. The doctor explained to an overweight homemaker that he seldom asked his patients to keep track of what they eat for breakfast or for lunch. He always asks how much they eat between meals and at dinner.

One Minnie the Muncher, curious as to just how much she did eat at odd hours, kept account. To her consternation she found she ate all day long. Knowing it would be tough to break the ingrained habit of piecing every time she opened the refrigerator, she schemed to fool her appetite.

"I cut into bite size pieces celery, peppers, cauliflower, carrots, tomatoes. Anytime I opened the refrigerator door, I popped a piece in my mouth. In a surprisingly short time this cured me of the habit of eating high calorie snacks between meals."

It took an audacious plan to enlighten a home-maker on the size of second helpings. She dished up her regular serving on the plate, and then took seconds right along with the first helping! The amount of food jolted her out of the second-helping habit!

ANOTHER spirited gal, deciding she needed a stern reminder, plunked the scales down smack in front of the refrigerator where she would have to step on the scales to open the door. That did it!

Friends, if you have worked out a gimmick that helps you to be one-down on calories, share it, won't you?

Postal Receipts Dip In Wellsville

Postal receipts declined in Wellsville for the second straight year although the loss was only about 2 per cent, Postmaster Elmer Evans said today in the yearly report.

Receipts in 1962 totaled $50,830, down $1,076 from the 1961 total of $51,907. Receipts reached their peak in 1960 with $52,533.

Mail cancellations in December showed a slight increase, the postmaster said, with a total of 189,610 compared to 189,130 in 1961.

It was the first time in four years that cancellations had increased. A total of 199,216 pieces were canceled in 1958.

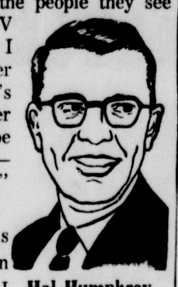
Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Now Everybody Has Somebody To Talk To

Someone is going to take a survey and discover that a high percentage of regular TV viewers talk back to the people they see on their TV screens. I dropped over to a friend's house the other evening. "Joe is in the den—go right on in," his wife said.



Hal Humphrey

Just as I was about to open the den door I heard Joe say, "Oh no! Not that cat bit again. Why don't you just fall off and get yourself a fat lip?"

-:-

I FIGURED Joe's wife had neglected to tell me that there was someone with him, but there he was in his easy chair all alone and watching TV.

"Didn't I hear you talking?" I asked, slightly bewildered.

"Yeah,' said Joe, a little embarrassed. "It was that blankety-blank commercial about the guy who climbs up on his roof to get his kid's cat, then he gets down and sucks on that cigarette as if he'd just orbited the earth. I I guess I was mumbling at him."

"You talk back to the TV often?" I asked.

"Sure, whenever I get a chance. Relieves the ol' hostility build-up," said Joe, in a feeble attempt to laugh the whole thing off.

THIS IS WHEN I realized that Joe wasn't unique. Every time Jack Paar prefaces some anecdote by saying, "Now this is the truth, so help me, this really happened," I find myself retorting, "Oh, for goodness sake, man, get on with it — who gives a hoot if it really happened!"

I also talk back to the commercials. One of my favorite pastimes is to adopt a derisive tone of voice and ape that washing machine repairman who's always grinning and simpering about the suds level.

THE WIFE of another friend of mine reports that politicians are what set him to haranguing the TV set.

"Our house sounded like a mixture of Town Hall Meeting and a Latin American riot when the election campaign was hot last fall," she says.

"Bill would sit in front of TV shouting, 'Don't give me that tax cut routine — you're one of those socialized medicine nuts!' And you should hear him do his imitation of Mayor Yorty every time he is on TV!"

Los Angeles' Mayor Sam Yorty doesn't have the most melodious speaking voice in politics. It strikes a monotone pitch similar to that one gets when humming a comb covered with tissue paper.

If you don't happen to agree with what he is propounding (via your TV tube), it is great sport to put in your own 2 cents worth of mimicking.

SPORTS FANS who used to vent their venom on the referees, umpires and managers are the biggest talker backers to TV. They now sit at home and bum-rap the sportscasters.

If affable Mel Allen could have heard the things being shouted at him from our living rooms during NBC's Rose Bowl game recently, he'd find himself a bomb shelter and wouldn't peek out of it until Ground Hog Day.

The habit of yakking at the TV set has made theater and movie audiences incorrigible. Actress Geraldine Page recently was quoted as saying, "You can stand on a stage now and during a performance hear the most inane comments from the audience. . . they don't even try to keep their voices down. They behave as through they were watching TV in their homes."

HOW DOES Miss Page know that people behave so vociferously at home in front of TV? Obviously she, too, has observed this phenomenon first hand, or indulged herself with some back talk at her own TV.

Remember how fearful our intelligensia became over what might happen to the "art of conversation" as more and more people gave themselves up to watching TV? Maybe we aren't speaking to each other as much, but we're talking a blue streak to that TV screen.

Negotiations Resume In Cleveland Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Negotiators return to the bargaining table today in an effort to settle the 46-day-old strike against Cleveland's two daily newspapers.

Representatives of the Plain Dealer, the Press and News and the Cleveland Newspaper Guild scheduled an afternoon meeting in the office of Mayor Ralph S. Locher.

The mayor said the two sides made some progress in a six-hour session Saturday but declined to go into specifics on what was discussed.

Negotiators for management and striking Teamsters Local 473 recessed their talks until Tuesday following a two-hour meeting at City Hall Saturday afternoon at which progress also was reported.

Union security, wages and improved working conditions are the chief issues.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Gimmick Helps Cut Down On Calories

Dieting can be a dreary affair, if you let it be. Why let it! With a spunky turn of mind and a little ingenuity, you can be one-down on the calorie score every time.

Ida Jean Kain

People who practice "upmanship" take positive delight in being one-up in any slippery situation. Well, play the game to be one-down on daily calories. This sporting proposition can be diverting, slimming too.

To get excited about it, tune in some of the devices that enabled other dieters to be a whooping one-down on calories.

IN REPLY TO the homemaker who asked how to stop "tasting" while preparing a meal, here is a unique plan passed along by an imaginative dieter.

Figuring a person can chew only one thing at a time, she chews sugarless gum while preparing dinner. Since gum and food do not mix, one would have to remove the gum to taste the food. That would be more trouble than tasting is worth, and so gum chewing really does the trick and prevents intensive sampling.

Or, try this habit breaker. The doctor explained to an overweight homemaker that he seldom asked his patients to keep track of what they eat for breakfast or for lunch. He always asks how much they eat between meals and at dinner.

One Minnie the Muncher, curious as to just how much she did eat at odd hours, kept account. To her consternation she found she ate all day long. Knowing it would be tough to break the ingrained habit of piecing every time she opened the refrigerator, she schemed to fool her appetite.

"I cut into bite size pieces celery, peppers, cauliflower, carrots, tomatoes. Anytime I opened the refrigerator door, I popped a piece in my mouth. In a surprisingly short time this cured me of the habit of eating high calorie snacks between meals."

It took an audacious plan to enlighten a home-maker on the size of second helpings. She dished up her regular serving on the plate, and then took seconds right along with the first helping! The amount of food jolted her out of the second-helping habit!

ANOTHER spirited gal, deciding she needed a stern reminder, plunked the scales down smack in front of the refrigerator where she would have to step on the scales to open the door. That did it!

Friends, if you have worked out a gimmick that helps you to be one-down on calories, share it, won't you?

Send a stamped, long, self-addressed envelope for "Hunger Control Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Postal Receipts Dip In Wellsville

Postal receipts declined in Wellsville for the second straight year although the loss was only about 2 per cent, Postmaster Elmer Evans said today in the yearly report.

Receipts in 1962 totaled $50,830, down $1,076 from the 1961 total of $51,907. Receipts reached their peak in 1960 with $52,533.

Mail cancellations in December showed a slight increase, the postmaster said, with a total of 189,610 compared to 189,130 in 1961.

It was the first time in four years that cancellations had increased. A total of 199,216 pieces were canceled in 1958.

Questions and Answers

about The East Liverpool Review Reader Accident Insurance Protection for Your Family

These questions are often asked by people interested in providing low cost accident insurance protection for themselves and members of their families. If you have other questions call the Review insurance department, 385-4545. now.

Who Can Get Review Accident Insurance?

Any subscriber to the Review or member of his immediate family is eligible for this protection, if he or she is over 1 and under 75.

Is A Medical Examination Required?

No!

Are Firemen, Policemen, Truck, Bus and Cab Drivers Covered While On Duty?

The policy gives 24 hour a day coverage, at home, at work, at play and while traveling. Even those engaged in the more hazardous than usual occupations listed above are covered while they are working. The only persons who are not covered while working are aircraft pilots and crew members and race drivers. When not at work these persons are covered like anyone else.

What Is the Cost of the Insurance?

The cost of the policy is only 10c per week. The premium is for each person insured.

What Does the Policy Pay?

Amounts paid depend on the nature of the accident in which the injury is sustained as well as the extent of the injury. For loss of a limb, sight or life from accidental injuries the policy provides for cash payments ranging from $250 to $10 000. It also provides for disability benebits of from $30 a month for not more than 4 months to $100 (up to 6 months.)

Do I Collect Anything for Minor Injuries?

Minor injuries that do not cause disability, such as minor cuts, burns, etc. are also covered by this liberal policy. It provides that if medical treatment is required for a minor, non-disabling injury for which no other claim is made, the insured will be paid the expense actually incurred for such treatment, not in excess of $6 for the first treatment and $3 for each subsequent treatment up to $21.

Will This Policy Cover Persons in the Army, Navy or Air Force?

Yes, as long as they are within the land limits of the 50 United States and provided the injury is not caused by military or naval action, air raid or any other act of war.

What Kind of Injuries Are Covered?

ALL kinds of ACCIDENTAL injuries—cuts, sprains, burns broken bones—everything except gas or poison vapor). The amount the policy pays depends on HOW the injury is sustained and the EXTENT of the injuries.

Suppose a Person Has a Heart Attack or a Stroke, Is He Covered?

No. This policy pays benefits ONLY for ACCIDENTAL INJURIES and POLIO EXPENSE. Except for Polio sickness or disability from natural causes are NOT covered.

If My Husband Gets Hurt At Work He Will Collect Workmen's Compensation While He Is Disabled. Would This Policy Also Pay?

Yes. Regardless of what you may collect from any other insurance, this policy will pay the full benefit for disability, hospital confinement or loss of limb, sight or life. In the case of medical treatment or X-Ray examination of accidental injuries this policy would NOT pay if the charge for this treatment or examination were paid by the employer or compensation insurance.

The Policy States That To Collect Disability Indemnity the Insured Must Be "Wholly Disabled". Does This Mean He Must Be Confined to Bed or Home?

No. "Wholly disabled" means that the insured is not able to perform his usual duties.

It would cover you anywhere within the limits of the United States, the Dominion of Canada or Mexico in North America. If you went outside these countries you would not be covered.

Just How Much Would I Collect If I Broke My Leg In An Automobile Accident?

The exact amount would depend on how long your broken leg caused you to be disabled. However, let us assume that you were in an auto wreck. (It doesn't make any difference whether you are driving or riding as a passenger.) Your leg was broken and it was necessary to call an ambulance to take you to the hospital. At the hospital an X-Ray would be made of your leg and because it is a serious fracture, you would have to stay in the hospital for 30 days. After you get out it would be 3 more months before you could get back to work again. Here is what the policy would pay:

Ambulance expense ---------- up to	$ 10.00
X-Ray expense ---------- up to	10.00
Hospital—30 days @ $5 a day ----------	150.00
Disability—4 months @ $50 a month ----------	200.00
	$370.00

Actually the maximum payable in this type accident would be $620.00 if the injuries necessitated confinement in the hospital for 60 days and the insured is disabled for 6 months and the maximum Ambulance and X-Ray expense were incurred.

Explain How the Benefits Increase.

The benefits payable for the loss of life, a hand, a foot or an eye increase 10% each year that the policy is kept continuously in force until 50% has been added to the amounts set out in the policy. For instance, if a policyholder were killed in a train wreck during the first year that his policy was in force, his family would receive $10,000.00 in cash, as provided in Part 1 of the policy. If the wreck occurred during the SECOND year that his policy was in force, $11,000.00 would be paid—the basic benefit of $10,000 payable for this type accident PLUS $1,000.00, the 10% ACCUMULATION earned for keeping the policy in force ONE year before the accident occurred. If the wreck occurred during the THIRD year the policy was in force, the benefit would be $10,000.00 plus $2,000.00 in ACCUMULATIONS making a total of $12,000.00. The fourth year benefit would increase to $13,000.00 and the fifth year the policy would pay $14,000.00. After the fifth year, as long as the policy is in force, the maximum benefit of $15,000.00 would be paid. This same 10% rate of increase would apply to benefits paid for loss of life, limb or sight under parts 2, 3, 4, & 5 of the policy. After age 60 benefits for loss of life, sight and limbs reduced in half.

Benefits payable for Disability, Medical treatment, Hospital confinement, X-Ray examination, Ambulance service and Polio expense do NOT reduce but remain the same during the entire life of the policy.

164 Fishermen Rescued After Lake Ice Breakup

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP) — Ice fishermen, a hardy breed of winter sportsmen, were out in force again Sunday despite Saturday's breakup of ice that left scores of fishermen stranded on floes in Lake Erie.

However, Sunday's fishing was limited to cove areas and other protected spots where a hard overnight freeze had reinforced the ice. In the open areas where winds from the west had started the ice breaking up Saturday, there was little ice left Sunday, the Coast Guard reported.

At Catawba State Park the report was that, between fishermen on the ice and spectators on the shore, as many people were out Sunday as in the hottest days of summer. The ice was solid on the western side of the peninsula that juts into the lake there.

Ninth District Coast Guard headquarters in Cleveland reported 164 persons were rescued from ice floes Saturday on Lake Erie and Lake St. Clair.

Most of those rescued were on one big ice floe off Reno Beach, five miles east of Toledo, where some 150 fishermen were stranded for more than three hours. The floe, which had drifted 50 yards from shore, finally was hauled close to shore with a rope attached to a truck.

Other rescues were effected by boat and by helicopters, including an Ohio Highway Patrol helicopter that plucked four fishermen from a floe drifting rapidly into the lake two miles off Catawba Point. The helicopter, piloted by Sgt. Joe Szabo, hovered just off the ice while the fishermen — two from Mansfield and a Sandusky man and his 10-year-old son—climbed aboard.

Major complaint from the fishermen, the Highway Patrol reported, was that they had to abandon a large catch of fish.

Safety Unit To Meet

LISBON — The Columbiana County Traffic Safety Committee will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in Village Hall. H. J. English of East Liverpool, president, will preside.

Civil War Unit Performs At Cubs Session

A group of Civil War buffs presented a program Friday night when Cub Pack 60 of St. Ann Catholic Church met in the church hall, with members of Scout Troop 60 as guests.

The program was in charge of Joseph Robbins, president of the Tri-State Civil War Roundtable and a lieutenant in the reactivated 104th Ohio Volunteer Infantry of the Buckeye Blues Brigade. Lt. Robbins explained the purpose of the organization and gave a brief resume of highlights of the Civil War.

Cpl. Kenneth Robbins of Company K displayed some of the equipment used in the War Between the States and showed the manual of arms and loading procedure for the Civil War muzzle-loaders.

Sgt. Thomas Gualtier, Jerry Wallace, Wayne Wallace of Wellsville and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sullivan and Jack Sullivan of Toronto, members of Company L Field Music, played "Battle Cry of Freedom" and "Annie Laurie" on fifes and drums.

Movies were shown by Sgt. Orval Schoolcraft Jr. of Wellsville and slides were screened by Sgt. Paul Ward of East Liverpool. The photos covered tours of battlefields and reenactment of famous engagements.

A question and answer period was held by Robbins, followed by two more selections of the fifes and drums, "Marching Along" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

The closing flag ceremony was conducted by the Pack and Troop 60 with Craig Means, James Hocking and Michael Hargraves as color bearers and Joseph Ramsey narrating the "Creed" by Edgar A. Guest.

Mediators, Printers Meet In 37-Day New York Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Mediators met with newspaper publishers and striking printers rallied in support of their leaders Sunday in the 37th day of the city's costliest newspaper strike.

There was no clue to what the publishers of the nine shut-down dailies and federal mediators said.

The strikers at a mass meeting gave loud approval to continuance of the strike.

They loudly booed the name of retired federal Judge Harold R. Medina, head of a three-man "board of accountability" which last Friday turned in a report blaming the lengthy shutdown mostly on the printers' union.

During negotiation sessions Saturday both sides changed positions slightly for the first time since the printers struck four newspapers Dec. 8.

The printers lowered their two-year wage increase demand from $19 to $18 a week, and the publishers moved up from a two-year package offer of $9.20 weekly to one of slightly more than $10, including $8 in wages.

Mediators said they would meet with the printers today, and hoped to set up a joint bargaining session Tuesday.

Meanwhile, the printers union and the mailers union voted $30,000 and $5,000, respectively, to assist "less fortunate" unions affected by the shutdown.

Bertram A. Powers, president of striking Local 6 of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union, said those attending the mass meeting Sunday voted unanimously to "remain on strike indefinitely until a just contract is achieved."

Powers said the dispute could be settled in three hours of "real negotiations."

More than 700 trade fairs will be held in 61 countries in 1963.

Loyola Visits Kent Saturday

Cincy, Buckeyes, Ohio U. Win Important Loop Tilts

By The Associated Press

Ohio basketball fans without television sets or traveling time won't get to see either the nation's No. 1 team, Cincinnati, or fourth-ranked Ohio State in action this week. Both are on the road in their sole appearances.

But the No. 2 ranked collegiate cage unit, Chicago's Loyola Ramblers, will be on view in Ohio. They invade Kent State Saturday. They also stay over to play Ohio U. two nights later.

Cincinnati, fresh from its 31st straight victory over two seasons, 67-57 at Tulsa, gets a big Missouri Valley Conference test when it visits Bradley Thursday night. Ohio State, hanging in the Big Ten race by the skin of another two-point home triumph, 68-66 over Michigan, journeys to Iowa to tackle the weak Hawkeyes Saturday.

Home front fun is available in abundance, however. The Mid-American Conference musical-chairs struggle for supremacy has a key tussle in Ohio U. at Miami Tuesday. A Wittenberg at Dayton clash Wednesday should attract much interest, and Ohio Wesleyan goes to Akron Saturday in a key Ohio Conference pairing.

Along with Cincinnati and Ohio State, Ohio U., Miami and Wittenberg made the loudest splashes the past weekend.

The Bobcats assumed the precurious top spot in the Mid-Am by nipping Toledo 48-47 on Stacy Bunton's last-second shot; fast-coming Miami avenged an 86-36 early season humiliation at Bowling Green by trimming the fizzling Falcons in the Redskin lair 62-57, and Wittenberg's Ohio Conference leaders handed Ohio Wesleyan its first league loss, 56-38, for the Tigers' 64th successive home victory.

Akron rolled along with an 11-0 season record by thumping Muskingum 90-62. The Zips are 7-0 and Wittenberg 8-0 in the O.C.

Ron Bonham scored 30 points for Cincinnati Saturday night, 20 in the second half to spark the Bearcat breakaway from a 32-32 halftime knot. The 'Cats must break precedent Thursday to make it 32 in a row. They've never beaten Bradley at Peoria.

Ohio State's narrow escape from Michigan gave the Bucks and Wolverines identical records of 2-1 in the Big Ten and 10-2 overall. Gary Bradds' 33 points did the trick—and they were needed badly for the rest of the Buckeyes were far off form.

The Mid-Am chase has turned—temporarily at least—into a four-team battle. Ohio U. is 3-0, Toledo 3-1, Western Michigan 2-1 and Miami 3-2. Bowling Green, preseason favorite, has dropped three in a row and sunk to 2-3. The Bobcats follow up their trip to Oxford with another crucial game at Western Michigan Saturday.

In other top games last Saturday, Dayton lifted its record to 8-4 by repulsing Louisville 70-65 for the Flyers' second straight overtime triumph, Heidelberg shocked O.C. contender Hiram 73-56, Xavier stumbled at Marquette 80-57 and Kent lost to Western Michigan 60-58.

Kress Leads Again With 24

Crestview Gains Another Close Victory By 59-58

Friday night, the Rebels went into an overtime to defeat Lordstown then returned to the court Saturday to take a 59-58 decision from visiting Mineral Ridge.

Crestview, which won its eighth game in nine starts, opened the first period by taking a 27-10 lead and it seemed that Mineral Ridge would be an easy victim.

At halftime, the Rebels continued to lead, 44-30, but when the third quarter ended, Mineral Ridge had cut the margin to four, 52-48, then made it a nip and tuck battle through the final eight minutes.

Jim Kress, the current leading point producer in the district, led Crestview again this time coming up with a 24 point performance. Chuck Clark topped Mineral Ridge with 17.

Red Friesell's Shoes, Whistle To Hall Of Fame

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Mementos in the National Professional Football Hall of Fame here will include the football shoes worn by William H. (Fifth Down Red) Friesell Jr., former National Football League official, and the whistle he used.

Dick McCann, Hall of Fame director, announced Sunday that the pair of shoes Friesell wore and the whistle he used while officiating in 575 games during a career that dated from 1921 to 1941 had been donated to the shrine. The cleats on the shoes are worn down to the soles.

Friesell, who lives in Pittsburgh, was given his "Fifth Down" nickname following a game he worked between Dartmouth and Carnell in 1940. Losing count of the downs, he allowed Cornell a fifth down, which enabled it to beat Dartmouth 7-3. The error was rectified 48 hours later when Dartmouth was declared the winner 3-0 in the only collegiate game ever to have the score officially reversed.

West Downs East In AFL Tilt, 21-14

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Old pro Frank Tripucka came off the bench Sunday and passed the West team to a 21-14 victory in the second annual American Football League All-Star clash—then said it was his final game.

The 35-year-old quarterback relieved Len Dawson of Dallas in the final quarter with the score 14-14. He cranked up the faltering West players and guided them 89 yards in seven plays to the winning touchdown.

The score was set up on a 49-yard toss to Tripucka's Denver Bronco teammate Lionel Taylor. The same Tripucka-Taylor combination worked on a 20-yarder two plays later for the touchdown.

McClinton, AFL rookie of the year, was also named outstanding back of the game. The 230-pound fullback was the leading rusher with 94 yards.

The sputtering East offense—plauged by five intercepted passes—caught hold late in the third period. Quarterback George Blanda of Houston used only four plays to move the Easterners 68 yards to a score.

"It would take a fantastic amount of money to get me back next year," he said. The 14-year performer in two United States and one Canadian League said he plans to retire and manage his store in Bloomfield, N.J.

Paper Says Collier Is Offered Job

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Blanton Collier was offered the job as head coach of the Cleveland Browns Sunday and is leaning toward acceptance, the Louisville Courier-Journal quoted a reliable source as saying.

The newspaper added that Paul Brown, fired as Browns' head coach last week, "is reported" to be going to the U.S. Naval Academy as head coach to succeed Wayne Hardin, whom the newspaper said reportedly is going to Stanford to replace the ousted Jack Curtice.

Collier, a Browns' assistant coach, returned to the professional team last year after his contract was bought up by the University of Kentucky, where he was head coach eight years.

In the story the Courier-Journal quoted the source, not identified as saying Arthur Modell, owner of the Browns, offered Collier the job and that Collier is expected to give his answer today.

The newspaper said one of the things that kept Collier from accepting the job Sunday was his loyalty to Brown. It said Collier also has been asked to join the staff of Don Shula, new coach of the Baltimore Colts, but that the source said he is leaning toward the Browns.

Crucial Battles Listed Tonight

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Georgia Tech basketball coach John Hyder survives the season without developing an acute case of the screeming meemies, he should get some sort of an award—and maybe check his physicians to make sure he still has a heart.

Georgia Tech, No. 7 team in the current Associated Press poll, has won seven of its 11 games by a grand total of 12 points. The Yellow Jackets got past Kentucky, Furman and VPI by one point each, Florida, Georgia and Mississippi by 2, and Alabama by 3. Their latest chiller was a 73-71 decision over Mississippi in overtime Saturday night.

Tonight, Georgia Tech meets a real toughie in Mississippi State, the defending co-champion, at Starkville, Miss. The Yellow Jackets, with a 2-0 conference record, still trail Alabama, 3-0, which as a fairly easy assignment in Florida tonight.

The Big Eight, Big Ten and Atlantic Coast Conference all have important games tonight.

In the Big Eight, Kansas State is at Colorado, which has been going through the league as though it is playing a bunch of midgets. The Buffs, shooting for their second straight championship, are 3-0 after their 92-69 victory over Missouri Saturday night.

In the Big Ten, Illinois, No. 5, in the AP poll and beaten only once all season, will try to run its conference record to 4-0 against Northwestern.

The Illini clobbered Purdue 106-86 Saturday night, while Ohio State, No. 4 in the poll and Illinois' No. 1 threat for the title, had to come from behind to defeat Michigan 68-66 behind Gary Bradds' 33 points.

Wake Forest entertains Virginia in an Atlantic Coast Conference game that's important to the Deacons. If they score their expected victory over Virginia, which has won only three games all season, they'll pull into a tie for the league lead with Duke, each with a 6-0 mark.

The Blue Devils moved ahead of Wake Forest with a 78-67 victory over Clemson Saturday night. Wake Forest clipped Virginia Tech of the Southern Conference 76-63.

Cincinnati, the nation's No. 1 team, ran its season record to 13-0 Saturday night by polishing off Tulsa 67-57 in a Missouri Valley Conference game. The Bearcats play tough Bradley Thursday.

Arizona State, No. 3, behind Cincinnati and Loyla of Chicago, rushed past Utah 80-65 and stayed atop the Western Athletic Conference with a spotless record. The high scoring Sun Devils have lost only once all season while running up 14 victories.

Wichita, which hopes to give Cincinnati a run for the Missouri Valley title, defeated Bradley 79-60 and West Virginia firmed up its stranglehold on the Southern Conference race with a 100-97 victory over surprisingly rough George Washington. Texas pulled in front in the Southwest Conference by trouncing Texas Tech, 78-58.

Penn whipped into the Ivy League lead, vanquishing defending champion Yale, 60-50. Washington turned the tables on Southern California 62-61 to become a factor in the Big Six race.

Free Substitution Rule Is Adopted By Coaches

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The country's college football coaches tossed away their scorecards today, verbally approved the newly adopted free substitution rule as "good for the game" and indicated they now have enough room to manipulate their forces despite a couple of annoying strings.

"I think it will make a better game," said Coach Dan Devine of Missouri. "It's a great rule change," said North Carolina's Jim Hickey, "I'm delighted." "Very wise — very sound," said Bump Elliott of Michigan.

There was no hue and cry from the opposition replying to an Associated Press survey—only a lone determined voice dissenting. "It's a tremendous step backward," said Ralph Jordan of Auburn. "I had a feeling when Gen. Bob Neyland passed, on something like this would take place."

Neyland was strongly opposed to platoon football, calling it a "rat race" that robbed the game of its "character building aspects." Others like Holy Cross' Eddie Anderson, the dean of the nation's coaches, have always felt "the more boys who get to play the better the game gets."

The new rule, as adopted by the football rules committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association in Coronado, Calif., last Saturday, calls for more liberalized substitution. There are certain restrictions, however.

Completely free substitution will be permitted any time the clock stops and on all plays in a series except fourth down and when the ball changes hands. In each of the restrictive cases, only two men can be sent in.

A Wittenberg at Dayton clash Wednesday should attract much interest, and Ohio Wesleyan goes to Akron Saturday in a key Ohio Conference pairing.

Along with Cincinnati and Ohio State, Ohio U., Miami and Wittenberg made the loudest splashes the past weekend.

The Bobcats assumed the precurious top spot in the Mid-Am by nipping Toledo 48-47 on Stacy Bunton's last-second shot; fast-coming Miami avenged an 86-36 early season humiliation at Bowling Green by trimming the fizzling Falcons in the Redskin lair 62-57, and Wittenberg's Ohio Conference leaders handed Ohio Wesleyan its first league loss, 56-38, for the Tigers' 64th successive home victory.

Akron rolled along with an 11-0 season record by thumping Muskingum 90-62. The Zips are 7-0 and Wittenberg 8-0 in the O.C.

Ron Bonham scored 30 points for Cincinnati Saturday night, 20 in the second half to spark the Bearcat breakaway from a 32-32 halftime knot. The 'Cats must break precedent Thursday to make it 32 in a row. They've never beaten Bradley at Peoria.

Ohio State's narrow escape from Michigan gave the Bucks and Wolverines identical records of 2-1 in the Big Ten and 10-2 overall. Gary Bradds' 33 points did the trick—and they were needed badly for the rest of the Buckeyes were far off form.

The Mid-Am chase has turned—temporarily at least—into a four-team battle. Ohio U. is 3-0, Toledo 3-1, Western Michigan 2-1 and Miami 3-2. Bowling Green, preseason favorite, has dropped three in a row and sunk to 2-3. The Bobcats follow up their trip to Oxford with another crucial game at Western Michigan Saturday.

In other top games last Saturday, Dayton lifted its record to 8-4 by repulsing Louisville 70-65 for the Flyers' second straight overtime triumph, Heidelberg shocked O.C. contender Hiram 73-56, Xavier stumbled at Marquette 80-57 and Kent lost to Western Michigan 60-58.

Crestview Gains Another Close Victory By 59-58

Friday night, the Rebels went into an overtime to defeat Lordstown then returned to the court Saturday to take a 59-58 decision from visiting Mineral Ridge.

Crestview, which won its eighth game in nine starts, opened the first period by taking a 27-10 lead and it seemed that Mineral Ridge would be an easy victim.

At halftime, the Rebels continued to lead, 44-30, but when the third quarter ended, Mineral Ridge had cut the margin to four, 52-48, then made it a nip and tuck battle through the final eight minutes.

Jim Kress, the current leading point producer in the district, led Crestview again this time coming up with a 24 point performance. Chuck Clark topped Mineral Ridge with 17.

Red Friesell's Shoes, Whistle To Hall Of Fame

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Mementos in the National Professional Football Hall of Fame here will include the football shoes worn by William H. (Fifth Down Red) Friesell Jr., former National Football League official, and the whistle he used.

Dick McCann, Hall of Fame director, announced Sunday that the pair of shoes Friesell wore and the whistle he used while officiating in 575 games during a career that dated from 1921 to 1941 had been donated to the shrine. The cleats on the shoes are worn down to the soles.

Friesell, who lives in Pittsburgh, was given his "Fifth Down" nickname following a game he worked between Dartmouth and Carnell in 1940. Losing count of the downs, he allowed Cornell a fifth down, which enabled it to beat Dartmouth 7-3. The error was rectified 48 hours later when Dartmouth was declared the winner 3-0 in the only collegiate game ever to have the score officially reversed.

Beery's 26 Pace Salem To Sixth

When Notre Dame meets Syracuse in Yankee Stadium next Thanksgiving Day it will mark the Irish's first football visit to New York since beating North Carolina, 42-6, in 1949.

West Downs East In AFL Tilt, 21-14

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Old pro Frank Tripucka came off the bench Sunday and passed the West team to a 21-14 victory in the second annual American Football League All-Star clash—then said it was his final game.

The 35-year-old quarterback relieved Len Dawson of Dallas in the final quarter with the score 14-14. He cranked up the faltering West players and guided them 89 yards in seven plays to the winning touchdown.

The score was set up on a 49-yard toss to Tripucka's Denver Bronco teammate Lionel Taylor. The same Tripucka-Taylor combination worked on a 20-yarder two plays later for the touchdown.

West scores came on a 64-yard run by Curtis McClinton of Dallas and an 11-yard pass play from Dawson to San Diego end Dave Kocourek.

McClinton, AFL rookie of the year, was also named outstanding back of the game. The 230-pound fullback was the leading rusher with 94 yards.

The sputtering East offense—plauged by five intercepted passes—caught hold late in the third period. Quarterback George Blanda of Houston used only four plays to move the Easterners 68 yards to a score.

Tripucka took the helm at the start of the final period. He threw two incomplete passes during his first series of downs. After an exchange of punts he got another chance.

"It would take a fantastic amount of money to get me back next year," he said. The 14-year performer in two United States and one Canadian League said he plans to retire and manage his store in Bloomfield, N.J.

Paper Says Collier Is Offered Job

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Blanton Collier was offered the job as head coach of the Cleveland Browns Sunday and is leaning toward acceptance, the Louisville Courier-Journal quoted a reliable source as saying.

The newspaper added that Paul Brown, fired as Browns' head coach last week, "is reported" to be going to the U.S. Naval Academy as head coach to succeed Wayne Hardin, whom the newspaper said reportedly is going to Stanford to replace the ousted Jack Curtice.

Collier, a Browns' assistant coach, returned to the professional team last year after his contract was bought up by the University of Kentucky, where he was head coach eight years.

In the story the Courier-Journal quoted the source, not identified as saying Arthur Modell, owner of the Browns, offered Collier the job and that Collier is expected to give his answer today.

The newspaper said one of the things that kept Collier from accepting the job Sunday was his loyalty to Brown. It said Collier also has been asked to join the staff of Don Shula, new coach of the Baltimore Colts, but that the source said he is leaning toward the Browns.

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Georgia Tech basketball coach John Hyder survives the season without developing an acute case of the screeming meemies, he should get some sort of an award—and maybe check his physicians to make sure he still has a heart.

Hyder's Yellow Jackets have run up a spotless 11-0 record, the only perfect mark in the Southeastern Conference. But Alfred Hitchcock wouldn't dare write some of the scripts.

Georgia Tech, No. 7 team in the current Associated Press poll, has won seven of its 11 games by a grand total of 12 points. The Yellow Jackets got past Kentucky, Furman and VPI by one point each, Florida, Georgia and Mississippi by 2, and Alabama by 3. Their latest chiller was a 73-71 decision over Mississippi in overtime Saturday night.

Tonight, Georgia Tech meets a real toughie in Mississippi State, the defending co-champion, at Starkville, Miss. The Yellow Jackets, with a 2-0 conference record, still trail Alabama, 3-0, which as a fairly easy assignment in Florida tonight.

The Big Eight, Big Ten and Atlantic Coast Conference all have important games tonight.

In the Big Eight, Kansas State is at Colorado, which has been going through the league as though it is playing a bunch of midgets. The Buffs, shooting for their second straight championship, are 3-0 after their 92-69 victory over Missouri Saturday night.

In the Big Ten, Illinois, No. 5, in the AP poll and beaten only once all season, will try to run its conference record to 4-0 against Northwestern.

The Illini clobbered Purdue 106-86 Saturday night, while Ohio State, No. 4 in the poll and Illinois' No. 1 threat for the title, had to come from behind to defeat Michigan 68-66 behind Gary Bradds' 33 points.

Wake Forest entertains Virginia in an Atlantic Coast Conference game that's important to the Deacons. If they score their expected victory over Virginia, which has won only three games all season, they'll pull into a tie for the league lead with Duke, each with a 6-0 mark.

The Blue Devils moved ahead of Wake Forest with a 78-67 victory over Clemson Saturday night. Wake Forest clipped Virginia Tech of the Southern Conference 76-63.

Cincinnati, the nation's No. 1 team, ran its season record to 13-0 Saturday night by polishing off Tulsa 67-57 in a Missouri Valley Conference game. The Bearcats play tough Bradley Thursday.

Arizona State, No. 3, behind Cincinnati and Loyla of Chicago, rushed past Utah 80-65 and stayed atop the Western Athletic Conference with a spotless record. The high scoring Sun Devils have lost only once all season while running up 14 victories.

Wichita, which hopes to give Cincinnati a run for the Missouri Valley title, defeated Bradley 79-60 and West Virginia firmed up its stranglehold on the Southern Conference race with a 100-97 victory over surprisingly rough George Washington. Texas pulled in front in the Southwest Conference by trouncing Texas Tech, 78-58.

Penn whipped into the Ivy League lead, vanquishing defending champion Yale, 60-50. Washington turned the tables on Southern California 62-61 to become a factor in the Big Six race.

Free Substitution Rule Is Adopted By Coaches

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The country's college football coaches tossed away their scorecards today, verbally approved the newly adopted free substitution rule as "good for the game" and indicated they now have enough room to manipulate their forces despite a couple of annoying strings.

"I think it will make a better game," said Coach Dan Devine of Missouri. "It's a great rule change," said North Carolina's Jim Hickey. "I'm delighted." "Very wise — very sound," said Bump Elliott of Michigan.

There was no hue and cry from the opposition replying to an Associated Press survey—only a lone determined voice dissenting. "It's a tremendous step backward," said Ralph Jordan of Auburn. "I had a feeling when Gen. Bob Neyland passed, on something like this would take place."

Neyland was strongly opposed to platoon football, calling it a "rat race" that robbed the game of its "character building aspects." Others like Holy Cross' Eddie Anderson, the dean of the nation's coaches, have always felt "the more boys who get to play the better the game gets."

The new rule, as adopted by the football rules committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association in Coronado, Calif., last Saturday, calls for more liberalized substitution. There are certain restrictions, however.

Completely free substitution will be permitted any time the clock stops and on all plays in a series except fourth down and when the ball changes hands. In each of the restrictive cases, only two men can be sent in.

United Posts 4th Win Over Jackson-Milton

HANOVERTON — Three United starters hit in the double figures to lead the Golden Eagles in a 65-49, decision over visiting Jackson-Milton Saturday night.

By ANDY NUZZO

Members of the 1962 Midland High School football squad were honored by their parents and guests at a spaghetti dinner in the St. Anthony Club Sunday night.

For the seventh consecutive year trophies were presented to the best lineman and back. Ray Hoppa, All-WPIAL guard, was presented with the best lineman award by Anthony Martell, sponsor.

The Dave Alston Memorial Award, given to the best back, went to Don Miller, All-MAC quarterback. Frank Migliore presented the award to Miller. James and Anthony Migliore are sponsors of the trophy.

Angelo Migliore made the presentation of sweaters to the seniors. The Midland Mother's Athletic Association will present jackets to the seniors at a later date.

Joe Tronzo, sports editor of the Beaver Falls News-Tribune, was the main speaker. In his talk, Tronzo referred to Dave Alston, former Midland star, as the "greatest back in the history of Beaver County". Dr. Ralph H. Jewell, superintendent of schools, introduced the speaker.

Fr. E. A. Williams, pastor of the St. Christine Mission, Ohio View, gave the invocation and benediction.

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Allie Sherman finally has a victory today over Vince Lombardi, his old New York buddy, even if it took one of Jim Brown's finest days, five fumbles, two dropped touchdown passes and a field goal by a guy with the shakes.

Most of the 61,374 who watched the sloppy, but exciting struggle at the Coliseum under sunny skies and 60-degree temperatures probably would agree the answer was somewhere in the middle.

On the positive side, the East had the brilliant running of Cleveland's Brown, who proved he's just as good as ever by carrying 17 times for a record 141 yards, scoring two touchdowns on a 50-yard gallop and a one-yard power plunge and setting up a third score with a 33-yard burst through three or four would-be tacklers.

There was the clutch 19-yard touchdown pass from Y. A. Tittle to Pres Carpenter that pulled the East into a 20-20 tie early in the fourth quarter after it blew a two-touchdown lead, and the field goal by flu victim Lou Michaels that snapped the tie. And there was the tremendous defensive play of Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb and Jim Katcavage.

But that side of the East's first victory over the West in four years and Sherman's first over Lombardi in six tries since he became New York coach tended to be lost in the shuffle of fumbles by Abe Woodson of San Francisco that cost two touchdowns, a bobble by Johnny Unitas that led to Michaels' field goal, and sure touchdown passes dropped by Gail Cogdill and Ron Kramer of the West.

"We just handed it to them in the fourth quarter," echoed Unitas, whose passing—including a record 87-yard completion to Cogdill—had rallied the West into the lead on a 17-point third period burst.

The key play came with 6 minutes left, the score tied, and Unitas back to pass. He was hit by Lipscomb and Katcavage, dropped the ball, and Big Daddy plopped his 6-foot-8, 290-pound frame on the football on the West 25.

Michaels, so wobbly that Sherman was reluctant to let him play, kicked a 27-yard field goal three plays later.

On the kickoff, Woodson jitterbugged looking for an opening as he headed up field. He ran smack into Cleveland's Galen Fiss, who separated him from the ball with a ferocious tackle. Dallas' Don Bishop picked it up and raced 20 yards for the clinching touchdown.

Maury Wills Is Voted Top '62 Athlete

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—If all the awards received by Maury Wills this fall were lined up side by side they probably would match the 104 bases the fleet-footed Los Angeles star stole last season.

The latest—and most important to Wills—is the Athlete of the Year for 1962 award which was voted him by a wide margin Saturday in the annual Associated Press poll.

"I've received many awards," said Wills today, "but this is perhaps the daddy of 'em all. I'm real happy about the honor."

"Everyone has been wonderful to me," said Wills. "My main aim from now on is to try and make myself worthy of all these honors. I have been trying to and hope I can pay back all these nice people."

Wills captured 72 first place votes and 338 points on a 3-2-1 basis from a national panel of 302 sports writers and sportscasters who participated in the poll.

Player Sinks 18-Footer To Annex Title

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Golf star Gary Player is a positive thinker and proud of it.

So today, as the American PGA Champion from South Africa led the golfing nomads to the uncertainties of the Bing Crosby tournament at Pebble Beach, he could reflect on a putt he sank. It won the $25,000 San Diego Open Sunday.

The putt measured 18 feet from the edge of the 18th green and Gary had to make it or go into a sudden death playoff with Tony Lema.

"You know," Gary said later, "I had a feeling I was going to make the putt. I had hit about five real solid putts which just missed the hole.

"I told myself I was due for one. That last one made up for all the ones I missed."

By ANDY NUZZO

Members of the 1962 Midland High School football squad were honored by their parents and guests at a spaghetti dinner in the St. Anthony Club Sunday night.

For the seventh consecutive year trophies were presented to the best lineman and back. Ray Hoppa, All-WPIAL guard, was presented with the best lineman award by Anthony Martell, sponsor.

The Dave Alston Memorial Award, given to the best back, went to Don Miller, All-MAC quarterback. Frank Migliore presented the award to Miller. James and Anthony Migliore are sponsors of the trophy.

Angelo Migliore made the presentation of sweaters to the seniors. The Midland Mother's Athletic Association will present jackets to the seniors at a later date.

Head Coach Charles Polce introduced his staff of Paul Farnan, assistant coach; Ron Markle, line coach, and Al Giralico, trainer. Junior High coach Gerald LaValle was not present.

Joe Tronzo, sports editor of the Beaver Falls News-Tribune, was the main speaker. In his talk, Tronzo referred to Dave Alston, former Midland star, as the "greatest back in the history of Beaver County". Dr. Ralph H. Jewell, superintendent of schools, introduced the speaker.

Dr. Jewell had each member of the squad and each cheerleader introduce their parents.

Fr. E. A. Williams, pastor of the St. Christine Mission, Ohio View, gave the invocation and benediction.

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Allie Sherman finally has a victory today over Vince Lombardi, his old New York buddy, even if it took one of Jim Brown's finest days, five fumbles, two dropped touchdown passes and a field goal by a guy with the shakes.

Most of the 61,374 who watched the sloppy, but exciting struggle at the Coliseum under sunny skies and 60-degree temperatures probably would agree the answer was somewhere in the middle.

On the positive side, the East had the brilliant running of Cleveland's Brown, who proved he's just as good as ever by carrying 17 times for a record 141 yards, scoring two touchdowns on a 50-yard gallop and a one-yard power plunge and setting up a third score with a 33-yard burst through three or four would-be tacklers.

There was the clutch 19-yard touchdown pass from Y. A. Tittle to Pres Carpenter that pulled the East into a 20-20 tie early in the fourth quarter after it blew a two-touchdown lead, and the field goal by flu victim Lou Michaels that snapped the tie. And there was the tremendous defensive play of Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb and Jim Katcavage.

But that side of the East's first victory over the West in four years and Sherman's first over Lombardi in six tries since he became New York coach tended to be lost in the shuffle of fumbles by Abe Woodson of San Francisco that cost two touchdowns, a bobble by Johnny Unitas that led to Michaels' field goal, and sure touchdown passes dropped by Gail Cogdill and Ron Kramer of the West.

"We just handed it to them in the fourth quarter," echoed Unitas, whose passing—including a record 87-yard completion to Cogdill—had rallied the West into the lead on a 17-point third period burst.

The key play came with 6 minutes left, the score tied, and Unitas back to pass. He was hit by Lipscomb and Katcavage, dropped the ball, and Big Daddy plopped his 6-foot-8, 290-pound frame on the football on the West 25.

Michaels, so wobbly that Sherman was reluctant to let him play, kicked a 27-yard field goal three plays later.

On the kickoff, Woodson jitterbugged looking for an opening as he headed up field. He ran smack into Cleveland's Galen Fiss, who separated him from the ball with a ferocious tackle. Dallas' Don Bishop picked it up and raced 20 yards for the clinching touchdown.

Maury Wills Is Voted Top '62 Athlete

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—If all the awards received by Maury Wills this fall were lined up side by side they probably would match the 104 bases the fleet-footed Los Angeles star stole last season.

The latest—and most important to Wills—is the Athlete of the Year for 1962 award which was voted him by a wide margin Saturday in the annual Associated Press poll.

"I've received many awards," said Wills today, "but this is perhaps the daddy of 'em all. I'm real happy about the honor."

"Everyone has been wonderful to me," said Wills. "My main aim from now on is to try and make myself worthy of all these honors. I have been trying to and hope I can pay back all these nice people."

Wills captured 72 first place votes and 338 points on a 3-2-1 basis from a national panel of 302 sports writers and sportscasters who participated in the poll.

Player Sinks 18-Footer To Annex Title

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Write

So today, as the American PGA Champion from South Africa led the golfing nomads to the uncertainties of the Bing Crosby tournament at Pebble Beach, he could reflect on a putt he sank. It won the $25,000 San Diego Open Sunday.

The putt measured 18 feet from the edge of the 18th green and Gary had to make it or go into a sudden death playoff with Tony Lema.

"You know," Gary said later "I had a feeling I was going to make the putt. I had hit about five real solid putts which just missed the hole.

"I told myself I was due for one. That last one made up for al. the ones I missed."

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Ladies: I often wonder if there is a cloud above number nine?

I have tried many receipts and don't often reach that high!

We have had so many requests for casseroles and meat substitutes that are not in the ordinary cook books that we have found one that is up on cloud nine.

It is called rice souffle.

This is George's own special dish. I have eaten rice souffle (and varied it) until it is running out of our ears. But it still is one of the nicest dishes that has ever been served on our table.

-:-

HERE 'TIS:

One-fourth pound grated cheddar cheese.

Pinch of salt.

Add the yolks to one cup of cold cooked rice. (this may be left-over rice but George prefers cooked minute rice. I use the minute rice.)

Blend in one-half cup of milk two tablespoons of butter, and one-fourth pound of grated cheddar cheese to this. Stir all of these well.

Gently fold in the beaten egg whites, adding a little salt to taste, and bake in a slow oven for about one-half hour to 45 minutes at 300 degrees or until the souffle is brown on top.

GEORGE SAYS this does not have to be done in a glass casserole but he finds it best and so did I. The casserole should be greased before pouring in the souffle for baking.

Now here's what I did for variation and to please the Rock of Gibralter—(that's the man I have been living with all these years). He likes hot tuna fish and happens to be the only one in the family who does. So. . . to please the Old Rock, I poured half of the souffle into my glass casserole after taking a piece of foil and lining half of the casserole leaving a bit of the foil turned up to divide the souffle into two parts.

With the other half of the cheese souffle already mixed, and before pouring it into the foil-lined portion of my casserole, I added half-of-a-can of chunk tuna (or canned shrimp) after draining it thoroughly of the oil. (This may be divided and cooked in two separate casserole or individual serving dishes.)

Ladies, this is an economical dish and is a wonderful meat substitute. It is perfectly beautiful when it comes to the table; it's light, it's fluffy, and it's tasty! Try it. It's something new that the ordinary housewife does not usually throw on her table at dinner time.

I know you'll love it, and our thanks to George.

HELOISE.

Dear Heloise: I use the plastic baskets which tomatoes come in (the oblong kind) to hold socks in the children's drawers. It sure keeps them in one spot!

I also put a roll of shelf paper in empty wax paper box and use the metal cutter on the edge of it to cut the shelf paper. It makes a much neater job.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Tell Child Of Death Calmly, Honestly

Children over eight or 10 usually don't ask as many questions about death as do children from three to six. The older children, from much they have seen and heard among adults and other children, gradually have arrived at notions they derived from these other persons. While older children have assumed that persons having grown old and worn out die, they also learn that a few children and younger adults die from accidents or serious illness.

Dr. Garry Meyers

If it is a parent, brother, sister, cousin or playmate who dies, they may be torn more by sorrow at the loss than by worry that they themselves might die.

—:—

THE OLDER child may feel the sorrow longer than does the youngster three, four or five. Yet his grief is assuaged in proportion to how secure, loved and wanted he feels he is in his family and how well he can go on with other interests and activities.

We parents can help the bereaved child ourselves by recalling the happy times we had with the lost one and stressing what a privilege it was to enjoy the love and companionship of this person as long as we did.

The worst thing we can do is to relate any unhappy moments we had with this departed person or to express regret over some ugly things we had done or said to him or her.

Even if we say nothing of this sort, the child may sometimes think or say something of the sort. We need to be resourceful then.

The little child comes upon animals which have died or have been killed, as on the highway. His pet may die. We explain to him it has no feeling then. We may let him help us bury it.

Walking down a highway with our youngest, when he was about five, he and I came upon a snake which had been killed. "Poor thing," he said, "I'll pick it up and put it on the bank. Maybe it will live again."

THE WHOLE question of immortality arises with the young child. Sometimes we can get help from our minister, priest or rabbi. In the long run, we do best as, we talk with this child honestly in terms of our own beliefs and convictions.

Certainly concerning the loss of a loved one, we should emphasize the happy memories we and others have of this person while he or she was alive.

It might give you and the little child temporary relief to say, "He (or she) is just sleeping." Yet the child might then feel afraid to go to sleep or for you to do so.

When your little child, even without personal bereavement, keeps asking excessively about death, you should answer him briefly and unemotionally but try to divert his attention then and later to other interests.

Fortunately, the young child who feels he is wanted and loved and can have normal interests and activities soon "forgets".

It's wholesome if, for days, weeks and months, there are no tears in voices when the departed's name is mentioned and talk of him or her is objective and not repressed.

Besides, why should we and our children want ever to forget a loved one?

New Yorker Admits Slaying Of Executive

NEW YORK (AP) — A young Bronx Negro has admitted the slaying here of William Culbertson Pomeroy, 50-year-old vice president of the Dolphin Paint and Chemical Co. of Toledo, Ohio.

Pomeroy died Jan. 5 in a struggle with his assailant when he struck his head on the sidewalk. The assailant fled without taking the $5 Pomeroy had in his pocket, officers said.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Ladies: I often wonder if there is a cloud above number nine?

I have tried many receipts and don't often reach that high!

We have had so many requests for casseroles and meat substitutes that are not in the ordinary cook books that we have found one that is up on cloud nine.

George Dykes, a friend of mine, is a personal chef for a multi-millionaire. George has given us his number one recipe.

This is George's own special dish. I have eaten rice souffle (and varied it) until it is running out of our ears. But it still is one of the nicest dishes that has ever been served on our table.

-:-

HERE 'TIS:

One cup cold cooked rice.

One-fourth pound grated cheddar cheese.

Two tablespoons butter.

One-half cup of milk.

Pinch of salt.

Add the yolks to one cup of cold cooked rice. (this may be left-over rice but George prefers cooked minute rice. I use the minute rice.)

Blend in one-half cup of milk two tablespoons of butter, and one-fourth pound of grated cheddar cheese to this. Stir all of these well.

Gently fold in the beaten egg whites, adding a little salt to taste, and bake in a slow oven for about one-half hour to 45 minutes at 300 degrees or until the souffle is brown on top.

GEORGE SAYS this does not have to be done in a glass casserole but he finds it best and so did I. The casserole should be greased before pouring in the souffle for baking.

Now here's what I did for variation and to please the Rock of Gibralter—(that's the man I have been living with all these years). He likes hot tuna fish and happens to be the only one in the family who does. So. . . to please the Old Rock, I poured half of the souffle into my glass casserole after taking a piece of foil and lining half of the casserole leaving a bit of the foil turned up to divide the souffle into two parts.

With the other half of the cheese souffle already mixed, and before pouring it into the foil-lined portion of my casserole, I added half-of-a-can of chunk tuna (or canned shrimp) after draining it thoroughly of the oil. (This may be divided and cooked in two separate casserole or individual serving dishes.)

Ladies, this is an economical dish and is a wonderful meat substitute. It is perfectly beautiful when it comes to the table; it's light, it's fluffy, and it's tasty! Try it. It's something new that the ordinary housewife does not usually throw on her table at dinner time.

I know you'll love it, and our thanks to George.

Dear Heloise: I use the plastic baskets which tomatoes come in (the oblong kind) to hold socks in the children's drawers. It sure keeps them in one spot!

I also put a roll of shelf paper in empty wax paper box and use the metal cutter on the edge of it to cut the shelf paper. It makes a much neater job.

A READER.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Tell Child Of Death Calmly, Honestly

Children over eight or 10 usually don't ask as many questions about death as do children from three to six. The older children, from much they have seen and heard among adults and other children, gradually have arrived at notions they derived from these other persons. While older children have assumed that persons having grown old and worn out die, they also learn that a few children and younger adults die from accidents or serious illness.

Dr. Garry Meyers

If it is a parent, brother, sister, cousin or playmate who dies, they may be torn more by sorrow at the loss than by worry that they themselves might die.

THE OLDER child may feel the sorrow longer than does the youngster three, four or five. Yet his grief is assuaged in proportion to how secure, loved and wanted he feels he is in his family and how well he can go on with other interests and activities.

We parents can help the bereaved child ourselves by recalling the happy times we had with the lost one and stressing what a privilege it was to enjoy the love and companionship of this person as long as we did.

The worst thing we can do is to relate any unhappy moments we had with this departed person or to express regret over some ugly things we had done or said to him or her.

Even if we say nothing of this sort, the child may sometimes think or say something of the sort. We need to be resourceful then.

The little child comes upon animals which have died or have been killed, as on the highway. His pet may die. We explain to him it has no feeling then. We may let him help us bury it.

Walking down a highway with our youngest, when he was about five, he and I came upon a snake which had been killed. "Poor thing," he said, "I'll pick it up and put it on the bank. Maybe it will live again."

THE WHOLE question of immortality arises with the young child. Sometimes we can get help from our minister, priest or rabbi. In the long run, we do best as, we talk with this child honestly in terms of our own beliefs and convictions.

Certainly concerning the loss of a loved one, we should emphasize the happy memories we and others have of this person while he or she was alive.

It might give you and the little child temporary relief to say, "He (or she) is just sleeping." Yet the child might then feel afraid to go to sleep or for you to do so.

When your little child, even without personal bereavement, keeps asking excessively about death, you should answer him briefly and unemotionally but try to divert his attention then and later to other interests.

Fortunately, the young child who feels he is wanted and loved and can have normal interests and activities soon "forgets".

It's wholesome if, for days, weeks and months, there are no tears in voices when the departed's name is mentioned and talk of him or her is objective and not repressed.

Besides, why should we and our children want ever to forget a loved one?

New Yorker Admits Slaying Of Executive

NEW YORK (AP) — A young Bronx Negro has admitted the slaying here of William Culbertson Pomeroy, 50-year-old vice president of the Dolphin Paint and Chemical Co. of Toledo, Ohio.

Police said James Brown, 22, confessed Sunday after lengthy questioning. Brown was charged with homicide.

Pomeroy died Jan. 5 in a struggle with his assailant when he struck his head on the sidewalk. The assailant fled without taking the $5 Pomeroy had in his pocket, officers said.

Junior Editors Quiz on LEAVES

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The little hard working food factories called leaves make sugar and starch for the trees to live on. After a period of work, a leaf becomes exhausted; it must fall and give way to a new one. Even in places where the climate is warm the year round, old leaves keep falling and new ones appearing. But since this happens leaf by leaf throughout the year, the tree always looks green. Evergreens, too, lose their leaves in this way and yet are always green. But trees with big flat leaves such as oaks and maples need the summer warmth and are useless in the winter. So, in the fall, the base of the stem or "petiole" begins to grow a ring of cells which turn into cork and cut right across the stem, shutting off the tiny pipe lines which connect the leaf with the tree. Now the green chlorophyll in the leaf disappears and other chemicals are uncovered whose brilliant colors of yellow, orange and red make the blaze of autumn. As these go, too, the leaf falls to the ground. But during the previous summer, a minute bud with a tiny rolled up leaf inside had appeared where the petiole joined the twig. This remains alive during the winter, ready to burst open in the warmth of spring.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: If you live in a country where leaves fall, check on the tiny "auxiliary" buds which are waiting for spring. If you live further south, look out for old leaves falling and find where the new ones are coming in.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: After 25 years of marriage I had to admit my wife was a bore. She was a fine mother, excellent housekeeper and cook, but plain dull.

I met a younger woman who was exciting, attractive, informed and made me feel alive. When I asked my wife for a divorce she took it like a lady and we parted friends.

Now that I have remarried the real problem is my children. They are 17, 19 and 22 years of age — old enough to understand that a man commits no crime when he terminates a sterile relationship in favor of a stimulating one.

At least my ex-wife is polite and civil to me in public but my children treat me as if I were a stranger. This is extremely humiliating. Everyone in town is aware that my children flee from me as if I had some loathesome disease. I'd like your opinion. — TEXAS DAD.

Dear Dad: I guess everything comes bigger in Texas — even the heels.

Some letters require reading between the lines but your sordid story comes through loud and clear.

Your children resent bitterly what you did to their mother and they are letting you know it. Go cry on somebody else's shoulder, Tex. I'm too busy for the likes of you.

No Oath

Dear Ann: Last night I became involved in a discussion with a man I've been dating for several months.

I told him something about a mutual friend in the strictest of confidence. He was astonished and exclaimed, "I can't believe it!" I repeated the story and again he insisted it could not be true. Finally he said, "Go get the family Bible and swear on it."

I was furious and asked him to leave. This morning he telephoned but refused to apologize. He contends that a person who tells the truth would have no hesitancy about taking an oath on the Bible. How do you feel? — CONSCIENTIOUS OBJECTOR.

Dear Objector: I feel fine, thank you, and I hope you do, too. This kind of an oath-taking demand is a naked attack on your integrity.

The world's biggest liars are forever swearing on their mothers' graves, their children's lives and whatever they feel will be convincing. A person of good character doesn't swear on anything.

Witch Doctor

Dear Ann: Our first child, a little girl, was born two weeks ago. She has a dark red birthmark on her back about the size of a half dollar.

An aunt told my wife the baby was marked in this way because my wife stole apples from the neighbor's tree when she was a little girl.

My wife is not an ignorant person, Ann. She is intelligent. But she actually believes this wild story. She says she remembers the incident vividly and that it was probably the most shameful thing she ever did in her life.

Will you please print this in the column with a comment? — LARCHMONT.

Dear Larchmont: Does that witch doctor aunt have a license to practice? Please tell your wife that birthmarks appear for no reason that medical science has been able to figure out.

Confidentially

TO NEEDING ADVICE: I can't help anyone who says, "Please don't advise me to do thus and so because I can't," — and then lists the three most sensible courses of action.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Reminder Given For Donations In March Of Dimes

Richard G. Brian, director of the March of Dimes in Columbiana County, issued a reminder today for persons to return campaign envelopes sent to all county residents for donations two weeks ago.

"We need every contribution we can get to help provide medical care so desperately needed by children with birth defects and arthritis. Please take time now to drop your envelope in the mailbox—with your contribution of course," he appealed.

Brian explained that funds are urgently needed to finish the job with polio and expand the March of Dimes-financed network of special treatment centers which, through early diagnosis and modern care techniques, can do much to control and prevent crippling from birth defects and arthritis.

He said 250,000 children are born each year with significant birth defects, and there are thousands of children among some 11 million Americans afflicted by arthritis or rheumatic disease. In addition, millions of dollars are still needed each year to aid the thousands of persons paralyzed by polio.

Unfortunately the majority of birth defects and arthritis victims are not able to get the best possible medical care," the campaign director said. "Providing such care is one goal of the March of Dimes. Another is to support research to find the causes and means of preventing these cripplers. That is why your contribution in these little envelopes is so important."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: After 25 years of marriage I had to admit my wife was a bore. She was a fine mother, excellent housekeeper and cook, but plain dull.

I met a younger woman who was exciting, attractive, informed and made me feel alive. When I asked my wife for a divorce she took it like a lady and we parted friends.

Now that I have remarried the real problem is my children. They are 17, 19 and 22 years of age — old enough to understand that a man commits no crime when he terminates a sterile relationship in favor of a stimulating one.

At least my ex-wife is polite and civil to me in public but my children treat me as if I were a stranger. This is extremely humiliating. Everyone in town is aware that my children flee from me as if I had some loathesome disease. I'd like your opinion. — TEXAS DAD.

Dear Dad: I guess everything comes bigger in Texas — even the heels.

Some letters require reading between the lines but your sordid story comes through loud and clear.

Your children resent bitterly what you did to their mother and they are letting you know it. Go cry on somebody else's shoulder, Tex. I'm too busy for the likes of you.

No Oath

Dear Ann: Last night I became involved in a discussion with a man I've been dating for several months.

I told him something about a mutual friend in the strictest of confidence. He was astonished and exclaimed, "I can't believe it!" I repeated the story and again he insisted it could not be true. Finally he said, "Go get the family Bible and swear on it."

I was furious and asked him to leave. This morning he telephoned but refused to apologize. He contends that a person who tells the truth would have no hesitancy about taking an oath on the Bible. How do you feel? — CONSCIENTIOUS OBJECTOR.

Dear Objector: I feel fine, thank you, and I hope you do, too. This kind of an oath-taking demand is a naked attack on your integrity.

The world's biggest liars are forever swearing on their mothers' graves, their children's lives and whatever they feel will be convincing. A person of good character doesn't swear on anything.

Witch Doctor

Dear Ann: Our first child, a little girl, was born two weeks ago. She has a dark red birthmark on her back about the size of a half dollar.

An aunt told my wife the baby was marked in this way because my wife stole apples from the neighbor's tree when she was a little girl.

My wife is not an ignorant person, Ann. She is intelligent. But she actually believes this wild story. She says she remembers the incident vividly and that it was probably the most shameful thing she ever did in her life.

Will you please print this in the column with a comment? — LARCHMONT.

Dear Larchmont: Does that witch doctor aunt have a license to practice? Please tell your wife that birthmarks appear for no reason that medical science has been able to figure out.

Confidentially

TO NEEDING ADVICE: I can't help anyone who says, "Please don't advise me to do thus and so because I can't," — and then lists the three most sensible courses of action.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.
